

County rejects workshop funds as duplication

The Madison County Mental Health (Law 708) Board decided Monday night against financing a proposed new program for vocationally handicapped adults saying it would duplicate the existing Specialized Services program.

Ruling 5-2 against a $24,000 request from the Organization for "Advancement of The Handicapped" (Oath), the 708 Board recalled providing $54,000 to Oath in 1974. A member declared that the $54,000 had failed to provide services to the handicapped.

Some of the $54,000 was devoted by Oath to buying and remodeling the former Sheetworkers Club at 612 State St. Madison. Created to provide facilities to benefit the handicapped, Oath leased the building at $750 monthly to Specialized for therapy, counseling, instruction and production of goods.

With the lease due to expire April 30, 1976, Oath in 1975 sought $30,000 to become the operating agency rather than the landlord, indicating that it would force Specialized Services out of the building.

Oath at that time proposed a program covering seven months from May 1 to the end of the Madison County government fiscal year Nov. 30.

Aware of fire and safety deficiencies that were alleged by the Illinois Department of Vocational Rehabilitation and Illinois Department of Mental Health, Specialized moved out on April 30, combining the Quad-City and Collinsville southwestern Madison County centers into Collinsville quarters.

Twenty-five Quad-City area participants are based daily to Collinsville and the entire 90 served in the southern half of the county are to be assigned to a Quad-City building Aug. 15 if lease arrangements are completed as scheduled within the next week. The much larger structure is to cost $850 monthly.

The $30,000 sought last year by Oath had been cut to $24,000 and left in escrow, not to be forwarded to Oath unless Specialized stopped serving the Quad-Cities. Specialized, based in Alton, says it serves the entire county and wishes to continue doing so.

The request for the $24,000 was renewed Monday night and (Continued on Page 7)

Appointed to school board

Richard Zeisset, 1429 Third St., Madison, has been appointed to the Madison School Board to fill the vacancy created when Willie Walker, former board member, moved from the district. It was announced by Harold T. Fisk, board president, at a meeting of the Madison board Tuesday night.

Zeisset will serve until next April when he will need to run for election.

Probation crackdown reducing crime here

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer

"The police departments, the state's attorney's office and the courts are working together — and are rapidly making Madison County a place where prospective criminals do not want to commit a crime," Chief of Police Ronald Veizer of Granite City told the Press-Record this week.

"In cases which were nearly automatic for probation in recent years, individuals now are being sentenced to some time in jail."

"If the state's attorney brings us a case on a repeater and we convict him, we are going to send him to the penitentiary," Beatty said.

The judge said more probation are being revoked than ever before.

And new methods are being used "to tell a fellow on probation he had better straighten out and do just what is expected, or he is going back to jail," he added.

"Probation is still a valuable and worthwhile tool. But for many crimes in which we would have turned the offenders free years ago, they are serving some time in the county jail before sentencing. And then the sentence often has some jail time at the start, with more jail time at the end of the probation period. The jail time at the start is to give them a taste of what jail is like and they usually don't like that taste."

"In many instances when I give probation now, I tell the fellow, 'You are going to have to serve 30 to 60 days in jail at the end of the probation term. ... If you just stay clean and serve your probation, you will still have that 30 to 60 days to serve. But if you can prove that you did something extra, something to really help or change yourself during the probation, I might think about reducing or eliminating that time in jail,' Beatty noted.

"It is still a new concept, but it seems to be having an effect."

"Possibly that effect will wear off after awhile, but I still believe the 'hammer' being over their heads is one of the best ways of assuring that they are going to get themselves straight," he added.

"Often, news media get down on the court for granting probation. We have made some mistakes and even granted probations to youths already on probation for another crime."

"Efforts have been made to assure us that we will have a pre-sentence investigation on nearly every felon prior to sentencing him."

"Probation must be kept as a tool. It is a viable alternative to sending people to the penitentiary — if it is used properly."

"Some courts use probation as a way of shuffling people through the courts. We do not."

"The penitentiaries are overcrowded and people don't want to spend the money to build more penitentiaries. Prisons also can harm some youngsters more than help them."

"With crime, homosexuality and other problems in the (Continued on Page 28)

Funds for 19th St. overpass

The Illinois Department of Transportation has earmarked $200,000 for construction work on the proposed overpass between the downtown area and West Granite City.

The fund was included among major highway projects scheduled by the DOT during the 1977 fiscal year which begins July 1.

While design planning for the overpass is not yet complete, M.W. Architects and Engineers, St. Louis planning firm, recommended construction of the grade separation on Nineteenth Street as the most favorable site.

Mayor Paul Schuler said yesterday that the projection of (Continued on Page 15)

Bull causes accident; 2 are injured

A 1,200 pound bull which got onto Interstate 270 a mile east of Route 250 was struck by a car at 5:10 a.m. today, injuring the driver, and the bull later charged and injured an Illinois State Police trooper investigating the accident, injuring his right ankle.

The auto of Earl Dyck, Wichita, Kan., was in the interstate highway when it struck the bull, damaging Dyck's auto and breaking his leg. He was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital and was admitted for surgery.

State troopers and Madison County Sheriff's Deputies were called to the accident scene and found the bull injured, but still alive.

He either kicked or stepped on the foot of Trooper Richard Crnkovich, Edwardsville, injuring his right ankle. Troopers reported Crnkovich was released after treatment at the hospital.

Authorities noted it was necessary to kill the injured bull. The owner has not been identified.

BROADWAY UNDERPASS OPEN After 10 years of struggle with red tape and apparently insurmountable hurdles, city officials of Venice opened the underpass at noon Monday to avoid further train delays for motorists using McKinley Bridge. In the first official car is Venice Mayor William "Mike" Ebersoldt and Mrs. Margaret Lee, wife of the late Mayor Dr. John E. Lee who was responsible for starting the project over 10 years ago.

$35,000 bond in aggravated battery case

Lester E. Johnson, 35, of 3801 Kirkpatrick Homes, was charged Monday with aggravated battery for allegedly beating an elderly Granite City woman Monday morning.

The woman was admitted to the intensive care unit of St. Elizabeth Hospital following the beating, and was taken out of intensive care Tuesday.

Johnson's bond was set at $35,000 and he was transferred at 3:45 a.m. Tuesday to the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville.

On and off the record Carter now 'the man who ...'

Political conventions often feature nominating speeches about "the man who" will accomplish a variety of promised governmental goals. After many references to "the man who," the name is given in the final sentence as delegates leap to their feet and cheer.

Next month's Democratic Presidential nominee at Kansas City seems sure to be former Georgia governor Jimmy Carter, it became apparent Wednesday when Alabama Gov. George Wallace and Chicago Mayor Richard Daley voiced their support.

Quick to add praise for Carter were Senators Henry Jackson, Adlai Stevenson and Hubert Humphrey, Congressmen Morris Udall and Paul Simon also have commended Carter, who appears to have more than enough delegate votes to be nominated.

A 1904 Granite City booklet recalls local pride in the two "first-class hotels" then in operation.

The hotels were said to have "efficient and liberal management" and were enjoying "good patronage."

Lauff's, the larger of the two, contained 55 rooms and cost $40,000. Its location was 19th and C Streets.

Molthrop's Hotel had 40 rooms and was described as "well equipped and centrally located."

The Granite City was a social, non-political organization with a membership of 125 of leading businessmen and employees.

It occupies very prime quarters in one of the principal buildings, arranged as parlors, reading and billiard rooms, and is an important factor in the social life of the city.

City continues to 'tighten belt'

Granite City Council members moved Monday night to meet city payroll with federal revenue funds and called on all department heads to "cut back" on all discretionary assignments except in cases of emergency.

In a related action, council members approved a transfer of $132,359 from the working cash fund to general revenue accounts to meet claims for services and supplies for the first half of this month.

The actions coincided with warnings by several aldermen that the city will have to "tighten its belt" because of a delay in tax collections caused this year by late completion of property assessments and, subsequently, a delay in distribution of tax bills this year.

Alderman Sam Whitmer of the Second Ward told the council that "we are going to have to operate on revenue sharing, state sales tax and state income tax funds until money comes in. We understand that tax bills won't go out until about the middle of August, and it will be some time (Continued on Page 5)

John C. Rush, an industrial arts teacher at Venice High School for 18 years, will succeed Lewis E. Sabin as the school's new principal.

Rush, 37, was promoted to the principal's post upon recommendation of Venice Supt. of Schools Robert N. Vickers and the retiring principal, at the Venice Board of Education's meeting Monday night.

The vote on the appointment was four to two, with Board Members John Boush and Charles Berger opposed. Elmer Taylor, another board member, was absent from the meeting. "Rush is the best qualified applicant," Vickers told the board, who considered the appointment in executive session.

The latter session, from which the public is excluded, was called to bring Berger and Boush up to date on the proposed appointment, as the two men were unable to attend the meeting earlier when the matter was discussed at length, it was learned.

Some of the residents in Venice called board members after hearing a black administrator was being considered and asked that a white person be selected for the job.

Supt. Vickers and Mrs. Ann McKinney, Venice Grade School principal, are both black. K. Duane Rankin, administrator of Venice-Lincoln Technical School, is white. The adult education school is financed with federal and state funds and administered by the Venice School Board.

WRECKED REMAINS of a car driven by Woodie Glasper, 54, of Eagle Park Acres, which struck a parked truck and resulted in damage to the truck and four other

Pontoon meeting date at issue

An attempt is likely to be made at tomorrow night's Pontoon Beach Village Board meeting to override a veto by Board President Floyd David Moss of an ordinance that would change the regular meeting time and day of the week, ending 6:30 p.m. Friday meetings.

An ordinance changing the meeting time and date to 7:30 p.m. on the second and fourth Thursdays of each month was approved by the board on a 4-1 vote at its last meeting. Trustee Loren Madison cast the only negative vote.

Voting in favor were trustees Raymond Gaudette Jr., Donald C. Rea, Duane Skinner, and Paul Bennett. Trustee Keith Biggs was absent.

Some village residents have expressed objections to the 6:30 p.m. Friday meetings, saying they were inconvenient to attend. Trustee Don Rea at one meeting told the board he felt the meeting day and time was set to discourage public participation in village government. The Press-Record has learned that a move is underway to override Moss' veto of the ordinance changing the meetings to 7:30 p.m. Thursday and that the issue will be brought before the board tomorrow night if those favoring the change feel they have four votes to override.

There is expected to be a challenge whether four votes is sufficient to override a veto. The village ordinance number one notes "two-thirds of all trustees elected to the board of trustees" must vote affirmatively to override a veto.

The difference of opinion is whether the president is considered a trustee. Since he can vote only in the event of a tie by the trustees, some feel he can not be considered a trustee. If he is not a trustee, a two-thirds vote of the six trustees would require four votes. If the president is considered a trustee, five votes would be necessary to constitute two-thirds of the seven-member board.

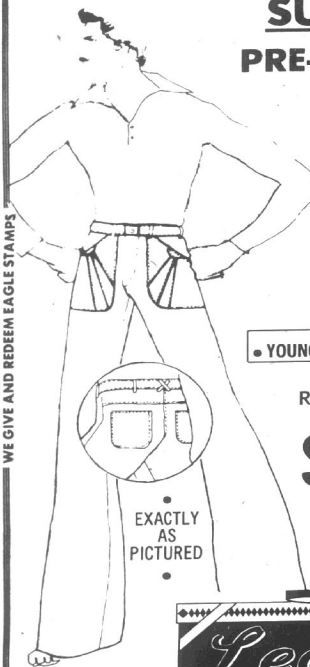

The village's attorney, Paul Guzzardo, is expected to be requested to resolve the question whether four or five votes are needed to override the veto.

It is not believed those wanting to override the veto could muster five votes from the trustees since Madison has been voting against changing the meeting day and Biggs has indicated he would have difficulty attending Thursday meetings.

In a veto message to the trustees, Moss cited Biggs' conflict on Thursdays and the possibility the attorney could not attend every Thursday's meeting, as reasons for his veto.

Republicans to meet, choose five delegates

The DuPage County Republican Central Committee will be host to Illinois Republicans tomorrow and Saturday in Oak Brook. It is the first time DuPage has been accorded such an honor in the 122 years since the party had its start in Wheaton.

Congressman John N. Erlenborn, R-Ill., State Committeeman William Ives and DuPage GOP Chairman James Pate Philip are helping plan the convention. Donald Adams is chairman of the state central committee. The major item of official business for the state GOP will be to elect five delegates-at-large to represent the state at the national GOP convention starting Aug. 16 at Kemper Arena, Kansas City, Mo. Ninety-six delegates were elected in the March 16 primary—four from each Congressional district.

The tentative schedule for the two-day convention includes a Friday evening reception in the ballroom, honoring 1976 candidates on the GOP ticket, a brunch Saturday morning in the Rainforest Room of the Sheraton Oak Brook Hotel, a full convention session beginning at noon Saturday, and a reception in the evening honoring retiring national committeewoman Hope McCormick of Warrenville and Chicago.

Maryville Road job ready for bidding

Negotiations to acquire the last tract of right-of-way for the city's portion of the Maryville Road improvement have been completed, clearing the way for a bid call on the project, Mayor Paul Schuler told the Press-Record Wednesday.

Schuler said that arrangements have been completed to acquire the last quarter parcel needed for the project from Udeli Bischoff. The tract is located at 23rd Street and Highway 162.

"We have all of the right-of-way needed by the city for its part of the Maryville Road job," the mayor said, adding that he expects a resolution calling bids on the job will be presented to the Madison County Board in its July meeting.

Acquisition of the 23rd Street-Highway 162 parcel followed action by the City Council in enactment of an ordinance in mid-March providing for a "quick-take" condemnation proceeding under which the city could acquire property for roadway easements prior to court hearings necessary to fix a price on the property acquired.

Actually, the city had hoped to complete its right-of-way acquisition and enable the county to call bids on the Maryville Road project last December, but was unable to reach a settlement with Bischoff on the tract at 23rd Street and Highway 162.

The Maryville Road improvement—calling for construction of a four-lane highway extending Maryville Road from Pontoon Road to Highway 162—has been in the planning stage for ten years as a joint city-county project financed with motor fuel taxes.

While the city's motor fuel tax fund is committed to other projects at this time, the county will advance funds for the city's share of the project. The city then will reimburse the county from its motor fuel tax funds at a rate of $10,000 per month.

When the project was originally planned, its cost was estimated at $2.5 million, with the Granite City share estimated at $300,000. Because of increased construction cost, the overall project now is estimated at more than $4 million with the city's share expected to range from $800,000 to $1 million.

Hal Holbrook appearance at MRF is reset

One of the special attractions of the 1976 Mississippi River Festival season has been rescheduled for Sept. 16 because of the star's movie-making schedule, according to Mrs. Vicki Holt, concert manager.

Hal Holbrook, who presents "Mark Twain Tonight," is cancelling his summer tour because he has been selected for the leading role in "Rituals," a movie which will be filmed in Northern Canada from June 15 to Aug. 15.

Holbrook was scheduled to perform June 28 at the MRF. His summer tour also was to include the Saratoga Festival, Ambler Festival, Wolf Trap, and the Annual Mark Twain Festival in upstate New York.

Mrs. Holt said the Emmy Award winning Holbrook has been rescheduled at the MRF on Sept. 16, the next evening after the performance of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra with Leonard Slatkin, conductor.

The 1975 Chevrolet Blazer of Neil Winters, 125 Rivera Drive, was stolen from the parking lot of Nameki Village Shopping Center between 6:15 p.m. and 6:45 p.m. Wednesday.

Mulach heads Red Cross

Jack Mulach, principal of Maryville School, was elected chairman of the Tri-City Chapter, American Red Cross, at its annual dinner meeting Tuesday evening.

Seventy-five attended the event held in the Officers Club at the Granite City Army Installation.

Highlighting the dinner was presentation of the Clara Barton Medal to Charles Reimers and Henry D. Karandjoff, charter members of the Tri-City Red Cross Chapter, which was chartered July 31, 1917.

Medals also were bestowed upon Mrs. Walter (Ruby) Winters and Mrs. Harry (Fanny) Epstein who were honored for their many years of volunteer service.

Mulach succeeds Robert Hildebrand as chapter chairman. Other officers elected were: William Bright, vice chairman; Frank McGinnis, treasurer; and Margaret Smith, secretary.

Newly chosen board members are Mrs. Andre (Shirley) Gitch, Mrs. Clifford (Maxine) Dunphy, Dan Roland, Clarence Green, Edward Gonia, Edward O'Connor, the Rev. Paul K. Surbey, James Whit, Ken Evers and Mrs. Charles (Jo) Meyer.

Marvin Teeter, manager of the St. Louis-Bellevue Division of the American National Red Cross, was the guest speaker.

He traced the history of the Red Cross from its beginning in Geneva, Switzerland, in 1864, to the present time, and noted the ability of the organization to meet the changing conditions of today's world.

Teeter spoke of the Red Cross' endeavors throughout the world, calling attention to the fact there are more member countries in the International Red Cross than nations belonging to the United Nations.

Entertainment for the evening was provided by Masquer, Inc., directed by Mrs. Rosemary Mefford, which presented several numbers from the theatrical group's upcoming musical production, "1776."

GC authorizes plea for EPA sewer grant

A series of four resolutions authorizing procedures under which Granite City will seek state and federal aid to finance rehabilitation of the Nameki area sanitary sewer system were approved by the City Council in a regular meeting Monday night.

City Engineer Monroe Brewer told the council that the resolutions constituted "technical documents" required by the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency as the opening step in applying for an EPA study grant.

The action followed disclosure nearly two months ago that Granite City may be eligible for grant funds that could be used to rehabilitate the Nameki sanitary sewer system which has been plagued by major sewer breaks since the 1973 flooding. The city paid more than $1.6 million in sewer break repairs during 1974 and 1975.

Notice of the possibility of sewer construction funds for rehabilitation work first was received by city officials in April following conferences in Springfield and Chicago with Illinois EPA officials.

The city was told that EPA would consider applications for Step One grant funds, which would provide for a study to determine the extent of rehabilitation work needed in the Nameki area and that this could be followed by requests for Step Two funds (design planning) and for Step Three funds (construction).

Brewer told the aldermen Monday night that immediate action was necessary on the required procedural documents because of a July 1 deadline for filing applications. The city would pay 25 per cent for the cost under all three grant steps, he said.

The aldermen also authorized a call for bids to repair and replace sections of the chain-link fence skirting the open drainage ditch along 23rd Street and Nameki Road which has been damaged extensively in some sections and collapsed in others.

Alderman Roy Poulos of the Third Ward commented that the fence is in bad condition. On his motion that bids be called for repair work, it was decided to have a bid call on specifications to be prepared by Street Superintendent Lionel Portell.

Portell, in response to a question by Poulos, said street department workers are to begin dredging the ditch which has become clogged with brush and small trees.

The council also authorized a bid call to supply road oil and chips for summer street repair work by the street department.

County to act on permit plea

The Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals has recommended that a special use permit be granted to Edward L. Burton, owner, and George L. Arnold, purchaser-lessee, to continue the use of two buildings at Route 203 and Lee Street for a construction company.

The recommendation is to be considered by the Madison County Board during its regular meeting at 9:30 a.m. Monday in the county courthouse at Edwardsville. The County Board last month requested a delay to study the recommendation before acting upon it. It was noted there were four objects present at a public hearing on the request.

The Zoning Board of Appeals recommends the permit be granted with the stipulations the buildings be left as they are with no additions, that grain bins on the property be removed within one year, that no buildings other than residential may be added and that the storage buildings be kept in good repair.

Also that grass and weeds will be kept mowed, rats will be controlled, no equipment or material will be stored in the open, and that the roadway be used in a sensible manner and load limits observed.

Arnold must build a private road from Route 203 to the storage area if heavy trucks are to be used. It was noted Arnold intends to build his family residence on the front of the property at some future date.

Other recommendations by the zoning board are: to deny permits to Barbara M. Kraus and Mac Hardas for permits to place two mobile homes on Long Lake near Lakeview Drive and Rapp Road; to approve a permit for Mike J. and Dennis Hugh and Laurie L. Peters for a mobile home at 5323 Lakeview Drive; to John Doty for a permit to place a mobile home on Chouteau Island north of Interstate 270, and to deny Debbie Woods and John Work a permit to place a mobile home in the Hills Terrace Annex of Chouteau Township.

The County Board also will be requested to approve a variation for Jack E. Monson to add a carport reaching 14 feet to the east of his house north of Interstate 270 and west of Route 203 in Chouteau Township.

Name Day at Trinity

The Holy Trinity Bulgarian Orthodox Church, 13th Street and Grand Avenue, Madison, will celebrate its Church Name Day on Sunday, June 13, 1976, which is also the date of the Eastern Orthodox Holy Pentecost.

The services will begin at 9:30 a.m.

His Grace Bishop Simeon Dimitrov, diocesan bishop from New York, will officiate at the divine liturgy and the vespers for Holy Pentecost.

Immediately following the services, a banquet with Bishop Simeon as guest of honor will be held in the Holy Trinity Hall, 1245 Madison Ave., Madison, the Very Rev. Fr. Peter Stamboljiev, pastor, said.

concern about the issue. Three of them were present, two of whom were there to speak on a different matter.

In choosing to promote a Venice School District employee, Jack Tolliver, board president, said the action was "in keeping with a long established practice of promoting people from our own district" and also conformed to an agreement with the teachers' union to post and advertise openings first within the district.

Another Venice teacher, who is white, applied for the job, but was not considered qualified as an administrator.

A third applicant, hearing about Sabini's retirement after 39 years at Venice, applied from outside the district. The man was qualified and interviewed, but declined to be considered after learning the salary was lower than the amount he is currently making in his home district.

Tolliver said the promotion of Rush from within the Venice School System will have an estimated $20,000 annually, as a teacher will not be hired to replace him.

Rush started teaching in the Venice School District in August 1961, following his graduation from Illinois State University at Normal in June with a degree in industrial arts.

He received his master's degree in education in 1964 from the University of Illinois at Champaign-Urbana and since has earned a school administrator's certificate from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. He also has taken additional courses at Washington University, St. Louis.

Rush is married to the former Miss Lena McGee of Venice, who now teaches kindergarten at Venice Grade School. The couple has three children.

John Blina, a visitor at the meeting, told the board it "didn't look hard enough to find other applicants." He heard rumors that there was only one qualified applicant. Blina said, "I am sure that you didn't put effort into it."

Blina introduced another issue, telling the board it should adopt a policy requiring all school district employees to live within the district boundaries.

"This is something the entire city would benefit from," Blina said, noting the hiring of a new job opportunity since many present employees might resign rather than move to Venice. Those who would make the move "would be good taxpayers, good citizens and would upgrade their property."

Blina suggested the board put such a policy in effect within 90 days or before the start of school in September. The board did not act on Blina's suggestion.

Venice High School has a faculty of 18 teachers and several also teaching classes in grade school. Grade school teachers number 21, excluding those in federally funded programs.

In other action, the board agreed to purchase gasoline for one of three buses used at Venice Lincoln Center and a school van from the Moto Service Station, Highway 203, near McCandless Road.

still be pumping rusty, unsanitary water from shallow wells for use in our homes."

A Pontoon Beach water official said, "The successful effort to overcome the ever-present opposition to progress at that time has resulted in a system of clean, healthy water available to all residents at reasonable rates."

"The Pontoon Beach Water District has long been considered a model operation among public water districts and has served as a pattern for new districts in many parts of the state."

The trustees agreed that the proposed sanitary sewer system is "vital to the continued health and welfare of the community."

Trustees voting in favor of the endorsement were: Chairman Andy Bukacinski, Frances Cape, Ed Harvey, Ruth Norton, Edgar Patrick and Fred Singer.

Trustee William Dooling was absent due to illness, but when contacted by the group, via telephone also endorsed the sewer issue.

Driver hurt as train hits car

Mrs. Nancy Selph, 4010 Rock Ave. was injured when her car, crossing the West Pontoon Road railroad crossing eastbound near Nameeki Road, was struck by an Illinois Terminal Railroad freight train, backing through the crossing.

The switchman on the train said he was holding a flare at the rear of the train and when he saw the car going to cross, he radioed the engineer to stop, but the train could not be stopped before the collision.

He said the train was backing at about five miles per hour at the time he accident caused extensive damage to Mrs. Selph's auto, but she escaped with injuries to her mouth.

Many years at Venice Gas and Oil Co. 1101 S. 4th St., Venice. The latter firm will continue to supply fuel oil to district schools and gasoline for two buses, the driver education car, a truck and a tractor.

The Moto Service Station is owned and operated by Johnny Jackson, a resident of Eagle Park Acres.

Upon recommendation of Board Attorney Lawrence Hartman, the school board advertised for bids on fuel oil and gasoline for the first time last year. The contract was awarded to Mrs. Mildred Jennings of Venice Gas and Oil, the regular supplier.

At Monday's meeting, approval was granted to advertise for bids on bus transportation, fuel oil and gasoline, custodial supplies, milk and cafeteria supplies, including canned goods and meat for the 1976-77 school year.

Also approved was a tentative budget submitted by Special Education Region I and renewal of the school district treasurer's bond with Fijan Maera Agency at a cost of $838 for a two-year term.

Sup. Vukers was asked to confirm costs of purchasing and installing breezeway doors between two buildings at Venice School complex, with the understanding that work will be completed prior to the opening of school next fall.

McKinley bridge traffic jumps

Venice City Council members expressed optimism over the improved traffic flow over the McKinley toll bridge at their Tuesday night meeting.

According to a traffic report for May, submitted by Duane Georgeff, bridge manager, traffic flow last month totaled 259,655 vehicles, a 38.67 percent increase over last month's 187,300.

The daily average last month was 8,775, a 1,253 daily increase over the same month last year.

"Now that we have the underpass open, we should keep many of the people who are trying our bridge for the first time," Mayor William Eberhardt said.

after that before we receive a distribution of tax money."

The motion authorizing use of federal revenue sharing money for salary purposes was made by Alderman Ronald Coleman and seconded by the council's Finance Committee.

Whitmer noted that "In the payroll we passed tonight there is a lot of overtime, particularly at the sewage treatment plant. I can see where some overtime is necessary in the police and fire departments, but I can't understand that at the pollution plant."

Several aldermen remarked that overtime was necessary at the treatment plant. The motion authorizing use of federal revenue sharing money for salary purposes was made by Alderman Ronald Coleman and seconded by the council's Finance Committee.

Alderman Steve Basarich of the Fifth Ward told Whitmer he didn't understand why Whitmer was pecking just on the treatment plant.

Both Basarich and Alderman Roy Jones of the Third Ward said they believed "we should cut overtime as much as possible in all departments."

Alderman Gerald Parmley of the Sixth Ward presented a motion that all department heads be instructed to cut back on all overtime, "except in case of an emergency."

This brought a reply from Chief of Police Ron Vezar who asked for the floor and told the council.

"I want to explain that this is the policy we already follow. I can't talk for the other departments, but if a man is out on an accident, or he has somebody shooting at him, he can't just say 'Kings' and wait until he's relieved gets there. I have put out an order that overtime should be of an emergency nature, and as for sick leave we check out every man that calls in sick."

Parmley said, however, that "that is the way it should be. My point is that you are the one responsible. You are the one to judge whether overtime is necessary and you will be the one that is responsible for that judgment."

Lucret Portell, superintendent of streets, said that he believes "we have stabilized overtime" in the street department, particularly on "callouts," but that with the sewer breaks, sign repairs and other problems, callouts are sometimes necessary.

Charles Hileman, assistant fire chief, remarked that the fire department seldom has

"I want to thank the aldermen, bridge workers and everyone for helping us get the underpass open early. When people realize there are no more train waits I feel certain they will continue to use our bridge. We may never get back to our peak traffic years but we are making some real gains."

According to Georgeff, bridge crossings from August 1962 through 1967 averaged about 15,000 a day, with 15,995 vehicles per day during August 1965 the highest daily average in the history of the bridge.

Bi-State buses will now pick up passengers at Third Street rather than Second Street due to the change in traffic routing.

A discussion was held on how to use $41,000 in Community Development monies.

Several council members said they feel that the money best could serve the entire community by helping to pay part of the $350,000 estimated cost of each approach repairs to the bridge, now being reinforced and resurfaced.

Alderman John Ervin questioned the possibility of using the money in other areas such as housing, a senior citizen bus or recreation.

Fred Durr Jr., a member of the Venice Community Development committee, said, "The members of the Community Development Committee reviewed this area as to what to do with the funds available. After several various items were discussed and considered, it was the committee's recommendation to the City Council to spend the money on the bridge. The more income from the bridge the more income for the city and, in turn, over the long haul, will benefit the entire city," he said.

The matter was tabled until the council holds a special budget meeting at 6 p.m. on Monday, June 4.

The new board member has a bachelor's degree from McKendree College, Lebanon, and also holds a master's degree from Colorado State University, Fort Collins, Colo. He has taught drafting and electronics in the Granite City school district for the past nine years, and currently is a member of the GCHS North faculty.

He and his wife, Judy, have two children, Jason, 6, and Laura, 3.

Fisk commented that he feels Zeisel with his background in education "will be a real asset to the board."

In other board action at the special meeting the Madison High School band was given permission to participate in the July 3 parade to be held in the Quad Cities and to participate in the Illinois State Fair on Aug. 13 in Springfield. The MHS band was one of only 40 bands in the state invited to participate at the fair.

The board rehired all tenure teachers that are not on leave of absence and rehired all second-year teachers and virtually all secretaries, clerks, regular cooks and teachers aides. There is one secretary position and a maintenance position still in question.

Hired as full-time teachers, who taught part-time last year, are Judy Wright, Andrea Sheppard, William Menig, Christina Sandoz and Roberta Pearce.

The board also granted a termite control contract to Barnett's Pest Control, low bidders at $2,194. The Orkin Co. bid was $2,400. The board also decided to advertise for a school treasurer's bond of $1.5 million, accepted the resignation of Mrs. Mary Evans who is retiring after 28 years with the district, and approved the transfer of Rita Barnhard from teaching the fourth grade at Louis Barr to the third grade at Harris School.

Sewer general obligation bonds are called sensible

Collinsville Herald — The use of special tax districts to finance sewers in State Park and two other areas of Nameoki, Chouteau and Venice Townships is a reasonable approach, according to the bonding consultant who came to town last week with another plan, the sale of revenue bonds.

Although the John Nuyven Co. of Chicago has not done an in-depth study or made a decision yet on the feasibility of revenue bonds to pay for the sewer project, bonding consultant Paul Williams says there is good reason to believe that the Madison County sewer committee is trying to follow a sensible, reasonable course by its use of the special tax district plan.

That "reasonable course" has caused a storm of protest in all three proposals special areas. Petitions of objection are circulating in each area in an effort to defeat the districts.

Mrs. Harry Milner, State Park, says petitions from her area will be turned in to the county clerk's office this week.

The protesters in all three areas say the use of general obligation bonds, paid through property taxes, isn't fair the way to finance sewers.

A group in Area One, the Chouteau-Pontoon Beach area, asked the John Nuyven Co. to consider use of revenue bonds instead.

Williams, with Gene Reese of Newhard, Cook & Co. of St. Louis, met with two members of the sewer committee and the Area One residents.

Newhard, Cook is associated with Nuyven in some area bond transactions, including the bond sale last week for Collinsville.

Williams says the basic question is whether revenue bonds would be feasible regardless of the fact that the citizens prefer them.

He said that the area's lack of "historical experience" in selling bonds and the fact that all the sewer construction must be done at the same general time are drawbacks to the use of revenue bonds.

Williams says he expects to study the situation in depth and to have an answer for the sewer committee.

The sewer committee's original plan for financing was through revenue bonds, but the plan was dropped when the committee was told by Wauterlek and Brown, its contracted bonding consultants, that the revenue bonds wouldn't sell.

The meeting revealed that use of revenue bonds would probably mean a tap-on fee over $400 and monthly payments of over $18.

Williams had said last week that there was a "reasonable possibility" that revenue bonds could be sold in Area One, which is the largest of the three areas and has the highest assessed valuation.

The bonding consultants weren't aware at that time of the existence of the other two areas, State Park (Area Two) and Eagle Park Acres (Area Three).

Williams also wasn't aware of the fact that the committee had already signed Wauterlek and Brown as its bonding consultant.

The Nuyven representative said anything his company did would have to be cleared with Wauterlek and Brown as a matter of ethics.

Harry Hartman, attorney for the sewer committee, said a plan for Area One that excluded the other two areas would never get County Board approval.

"When you go back to revenue bonds you've got one big district again," he said.

Home Boothman, County Board member from State Park and a member of the sewer committee, says many State Park residents would be unable to pay a tap-on fee of $400.

Grant funds for 'Y' program for seniors

The Tri-City Area YMCA has been awarded a grant by the Southwestern Illinois Area Agency on Aging to conduct a 15-month recreation program for senior citizens in Granite City.

The period is from July 1, 1976, to Sept. 30, 1977 and the grant is for $4,778. It is funded under Title III.

The grant was awarded through the efforts of Elina Hoover, Vina Law, and Harold Rudolph, executive director of the YMCA, working together to complete the proposal to establish an experimental recreation program for senior citizens in Granite City.

The board of directors of the YMCA approved the proposal with the stipulation that the recreation programs be conducted within the scope of the present YMCA facilities and handled by the present staff.

The proposed programs include several trips and tours, special day parties, a Tuesday-Thursday 9:30-2:30 p.m. program at the "Y" beginning in September. This consists of games, card parties, swims, dance classes, craft programs and other special events.

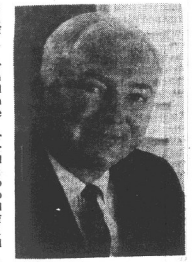

"The Y has indicated that we need to become more involved in programs for senior citizens, and this grant will provide us with a first step," E.A. Karandjef, president of the YMCA, said.

"We already have appointed a committee — Elina Hoover, Vina Law, Oscar Ash and Mae Finley — who will be working with Harold Rudolph, as the YMCA staff member, to start developing specific plans."

Mrs. Lachner dies at 46

Mrs. Winifred (Kelly) Lachner, 46, of 8915 Tanager, Houston, Tex., formerly of Granite City, died at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday.

She had been hospitalized for six months and was home a month when she collapsed Monday night and was taken back to the hospital where she died Tuesday.

BILL WILLIAMS

Survivors include her husband, George Lachner; four sons, Robert, Peter, Joseph and Leo Lachner, all of Houston; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Kelly Sr., Granite City; two brothers, Leo Kelly Jr. and Richard Kelly Sr., both of Granite City; a sister, Mrs. Francis Sudhol of Indiana, and two grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted on Friday at a Houston funeral home.

Walter Sparks, chairman of the sewer committee, told the group he had preferred revenue over obligation bonds for a number of reasons, one of them political.

"Home (Boothman) and I are politicians and you know what you are doing, as a politician, when you talk taxes, you're stabbing yourself in the back," he said.

Ed Juneau, consulting engineer for the project, told the bonding representatives that the county must have a definite plan to present to the Illinois EPA by July 1. The EPA wants construction under way by October.

Park playground centers start Monday

The Granite City Park District will operate eight playground recreation centers throughout the city, starting the seven-week program Monday, June 14. Harold Brown, director of parks and recreation said today.

Children in grades 1 through 4

Earns perfect grade

Duane Clayton Atchley, majoring in civil engineering at the University of Illinois at Champaign-Urbana, has been notified that he earned a perfect 4.0 grade average during the last semester.

Atchley completed his sophomore year at the university this year. A son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Atchley, 14 Mercer Drive, Atchley is a 1974 graduate of Granite City High School.

may attend the recreational series at the center nearest their own home. Namecki School again will be operated as a center. Brown said, noting a program there was discontinued summer before last.

Other playground centers are at Logan, Marshall, Parkview, Wilson, Webster and Niedringhaus grade schools and the Park District Community Center, 820 Niedringhaus Ave. Brown announced that Nancy Pelson will supervise the overall summer recreation program for the park district. Each center will have its own recreational leaders and aides.

The program consists of arts and crafts, games, picnics, a free weekly swim and special trips. "Very special events will be announced as the series progresses," Brown said. Registration will take place at 9 a.m. Monday at the centers. Hours the children will attend are from 9 a.m. until noon and from 1 to 3 p.m. Monday through Friday. Each participant is required to have the Granite City Park District Recreation Insurance, costing $2 per child. Brown explained. Once a child pays for insurance in any program sponsored by the park district he is not required to pay again, he said.

The $2 fee provides up to $5,000 per injury with certain limitations. The insurance is $25 deductible and is necessary for anyone participating in any organized activity of the park district. Insurance purchased now is effective until April 30, 1977.

All recreation programs are free of charge to residents of the Granite City Park District. The ruling does not, however, apply to league play. A non-resident fee of $7.50 will be required of all children through high school age who do not reside in the park district. Participants beyond high school age must pay a $15 fee. The non-resident fee is required for each activity in which they participate, Brown said.

Gardens variable in growth

By CHRIS DOLL
Garden Adviser
Southwestern Illinois gardens continue to be quite variable in growth. Generally, it's an early season for perennial crops such as berries and tree fruits, but a late season for warm weather vegetables such as tomatoes, peppers, and melons.

The recent rain and warmer temperatures will make everything grow better. June is a growing month and here are some things that will happen or that should be done:

1. Many fruit trees are heavily infested with aphids or plant lice. Usually, they congregate on the terminals and suck the sap from young leaves. They can cause stunting of new growth and also give off honeydew which is messy and attracts ants. Natural predators will frequently catch up with and control aphids, but sprays of malathion or diazinon will also reduce populations if applied at the right time and often enough.

2. Renew the strawberry patch. This means harrowing the rows so that new plants can be grown. Fertilize and apply dacthal weed killer during the renewal process.
3. Plant pumpkins now for Halloween. They take about 110 to 120 days to mature so they'll be ready by late October.
4. Spray fruit trees that have a crop of fruit. Use an all-purpose fruit tree spray mix or use your own approved mix. Non-bearing trees shouldn't need a spray unless insect pests begin feeding upon the foliage.

5. Quit harvesting asparagus by mid-month. This crop has been using up stored food reserves from the roots and now needs time to replenish itself. After the last cutting, apply 2 1/2 pounds per 100 square feet of 12-12-12 or other complete garden fertilizer to the planting. This will provide plenty of nutrients for growth for next year's crop.
6. Continue harvesting rhubarb if you wish—providing that the plants are kept fertilized and watered. Rhubarb will continue to grow and produce if the essential ingredients of water and nutrients are present.

7. Make continued plantings of crops such as sweet corn, green beans, and cucumbers. This will provide extra harvest periods for expired or insect-damaged plantings. Also, start some tomatoes for late season planting if you want young vigorous tomato plants in the fall.
8. Spray the trunks of peach trees and other stone fruit trees with carbaryl (Sevin) for peach borer control. Use four tablespoons of chemical per gallon and wet the trunk and crotch areas with the solution. Repeat sprays will be needed in early July and early August.

9. Tie the leaves of cauliflower together at the top when a small (1-2 inches) head is visible. This will cause blanching of the head for better appearance and flavor. Harvest should be 10 to 12 days after tying.
10. Cultivate sweet potatoes and apply dacthal herbicide thereafter. This treatment will provide weed control until the vines are growing and shading the soil.

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD Thurs., June 10, 1976 Page 9

11. Don't let the weeds get ahead of you. Light hoeings or shallow cultivation will prevent weed problems. No weeding should be allowed to make weeds in the vegetable garden area. 12. Thin apples so they are 7 to 12 inches apart. Any insect, disease, or frost damaged fruits can be removed in the process. Well-spaced fruits will develop better flavor and color, and won't break down the tree.

Radioactivity in water is a 'possible hazard'

The radioactivity present in some Illinois drinking water supplies is being reduced through conventional methods but it remains a "possible hazard," according to an article by two officials of the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency.

Writing in Water and Sewage Magazine, Ira M. Markowood, manager of the Division of Public Water Supplies, and Dorothy L. Bennett, a chemist on Markowood's staff, surveyed the issue of "Radioactivity in Ground Waters" in Illinois.

Natural radioactivity occurs in some of the ground water in the northern third of Illinois. Tests by the state EPA have revealed traces of it in treated drinking water.

Of supplies with this problem, the authors note, a high percentage are able to reduce concentrations by conventional treatment methods and by mixing water containing radioactive materials with water from other wells that contain little or no radiation.

Nevertheless, the article states, "We must regard the radioactivity as a possible hazard and take every reasonable precaution to protect the water consumer."

The authors call for more research into the issue, especially by the federal EPA. The state pollution control agency is helping local officials solve their problems in the meantime.

Water and Sewage Works Magazine is the trade publication for municipal water treatment operators, manufacturers and designers.

Youth charged

After patrolling officers told a group of boys and girls to disperse from around two parked cars at 28th and State Streets at 3:10 p.m. Thursday, a bottle of beer was discovered behind the rear tire of one auto. One youth, Brent D. Hutson, 1333 Garfield Ave., was being taken to a squad car when he allegedly knocked the bottle from the officer's hand, spilling the contents, and ran toward Wilson Park.

The officer chased the youth, telling him to halt. When Hutson kept running, a warning shot was fired. Hutson was charged with reckless conduct and illegal possession of alcohol.

Area residents who are interested in attending any of this year's attractions are being reminded that the coupon books, which sell for $20, contain $25 worth of coupons.

The coupons can be used to purchase any price ticket for any MRF performance. Coupon book purchasers thus get $5 worth of free tickets.

Area businesses that can be contacted for coupon books or any additional River Festival information are: Mercer Mortuary, First National Bank in Madison, Floral Original Flower Shop and For-

The following residents also are selling coupon books: Mrs. Harriet Byers, Ron Coleman, John Fornasewski, Mrs. Jo Ann Greenwood, Mrs. Nan Henderson, Ed Kirby, Mrs. Margaret Lee, Mrs. Gen Mercer.

The area chairman, E. Marshall Schroeder, may be contacted by calling 676-3292 or 676-4321.

The MRF season gets under way June 23 with the Preservation Hall Jazz Band and will conclude Sept. 15 with an appearance by the Chicago Symphony Orchestra.

Probation in burglary, 3 drug cases

Probation of two years has been ordered for Ronald Lee Daugherty, 18, of the 5006 block of Lewis Ave., who pleaded guilty May 4, 1975, to a burglary Dec. 3, 1974, at the New Hope Baptist Church, Moffat Street and Route 3.

The sentence was pronounced by Circuit Judge John Gilchrist. Three local men were ordered to serve probation terms in connection with a series of drug arrests in late March, coordinated by the Metropolitan Enforcement Group of Southwestern Illinois.

John D. Greene, 28, of the 2800 block of National Ave., was sentenced Thursday to serve one year of probation and 10 days of periodic imprisonment after pleading guilty May 12 to unlawful delivery of cannabis.

Billie Ray Tipton, 17, of Queensbury Court, was sentenced to serve two years probation for unlawful delivery of a substance represented to be a controlled substance in connection with the same drug investigation. He was found guilty by a jury.

Steven Michael Jones, 19, of the 4106 block of Highway 111, who pleaded guilty to unlawful delivery of a substance represented to be a controlled substance, was sentenced to serve one year of probation. The sentences on the drug charges were given by Circuit Judge William Beatty.

Citizen role in county's community development

The Madison County Community Development Department has announced general distribution of its revised citizen participation plan for the 1976 program year beginning July 1, 1976.

7 free movies at Wilson Park

Bedknobs and Broomsticks, a Walt Disney movie, will open the 1976 summer series of free movies to be shown at Shelter 4 on the Benton Street side of Wilson Park, beginning Wednesday at dusk.

With exception of June 30, the movie series will continue each Wednesday through Aug. 4. Families are urged to bring along lawn chairs or blankets for seating.

Those attending may park in the Wilson Park ice rink/recreation center lot or access to the outdoor theater site.

Other films to be screened and the dates, include:

World of Hans Christian Andersen, June 23; "Brian's Song," July 7; "Johnny Treman," also a Walt Disney film, July 14; "Cockeyed Cowboys of Calico County," July 21; "Music Man," July 28; and "Marsden Traveler," Aug. 4.

The plan is available upon request at the Community Development office in the Madison County Courthouse, Edwardsville, or by calling 692-4366.

Highlights of the plan include a description of the public participation structure which insures establishment of a citizens' advisory committee in every community participating in the program; the establishment of two public hearings annually in December and March;

A procedure to insure additional opportunities for citizen involvement throughout the application development and amendment process; and a summary of the technical assistance available on the program to any interested person.

The year beginning July 1 will mark the second year Madison County and its communities have participated in the Community Development block grant program.

Last year, $992,000 was distributed throughout the county, this year the amount just approved is $2,190,000.

Usury ceiling blocks home financing—study

The state's usury ceiling on home mortgages serves only to deny borrowers home financing, rather than limiting interest rates, concludes a new study by the Illinois Home Research Consortium.

When prevailing mortgage rates are below the legislated residential usury limitation set for lenders, the ceiling has no effect at all on the ability of persons to buy, sell or build a home, the study says.

But when mortgage interest rates, controlled by the national money market rise above the state-mandated interest ceiling, lenders are constrained from making loans at all rather than making loans at an artificial, non-competitive interest rate, it is asserted.

The first prospective borrowers to feel the impact of a money squeeze are those with smaller downpayments, the IHRC says.

The study asserts that mortgage interest rates are determined by supply and demand and competition on the national money market and not by an arbitrary interest ceiling that a state may establish.

The present 9 1/2 per cent interest ceiling in Illinois is temporary and will return to 8 per cent at the end of the year. The study notes that in today's market, lenders must charge contract rates between 8 1/2 and 9 per cent on previously occupied homes where the borrower has made a 20 per cent downpayment.

The General Assembly is considering bills in its present session, including legislation that might settle the usury question on something other than year-by-year consideration and give greater stability to the housing industry, the IHRC notes, adding that builders require up to six months' lead time in making purchasing and construction decisions.

The study looks at interest rate patterns since 1969, when the usury limit was 7 per cent. It concludes from the analysis that "mortgage interest rates fluctuate with the supply and demand for funds."

"When funds are plentiful, rates drop. When money is tight, mortgage rates rise."

"If there is no usury ceiling or if the ceiling is above the rate dictated by supply and demand and by competition, the law has no effect one way or the other. However, if the usury ceiling is below the market rate, borrowers will find it difficult to find financing."

The study gives attention to the rates on savings which financial institutions pay to attract depositors who provide the mortgage money, and the yields they charge on their loan portfolios in order to earn sufficient income to pay the savings interest.

In a survey of savings and loan associations, most "felt they needed a spread between their overall cost of money and average loan portfolio yield of at least 1 1/2 per cent in order for them to serve their customers, pay operating expenses, and make required allocations to net worth."

"Illinois associations have not approached that figure in the last three years," the study says.

In 1973-75, yields on loan portfolios rose 58 basis points, while the cost of money rose 66 basis points, meaning that costs were exceeding income.

One of the conclusions of the study is that "in order for financial institutions to pay attractive rates to their savers, they must be allowed to earn an adequate income from their mortgage loans."

"When they are not permitted to increase their income—principally loan portfolio yield—in order to offset higher cost of funds from the legislated usury ceiling, they must seek other, higher-yielding investments."

"All of this is at the expense of mortgage lending," the report says.

A money squeeze brings about the rationing of available mortgage funds, and one method used to ration funds is to require a larger downpayment. Borrowers with limited means and depending on a 95 per cent loan are the first affected, it is emphasized.

Seventy-two Illinois savings and loan associations with various asset sizes and from different parts of the state supplied data on which part of the report was based.

Members of the Illinois Home Research Consortium, formed in February of this year, include the Illinois Savings and Loan League, Illinois Association of Realtors, Home Builders Association of Illinois, Chicago Area Council of Savings Association, Illinois Manufactured Housing Association, Chicago Title Insurance Co., Home Builders Association of Greater Chicago, Chicago Association of Commerce and Industry, Illinois Housing Development Authority, Chicago Title and Trust Co., Home Data Corporation and other commerce, title and housing groups.

SIUE to graduate 2,000

Awarding of two posthumous degrees and four distinguished teacher citations will highlight spring commencement ceremonies Friday evening, June 11, at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

More than 2,000 graduates will receive degrees during the exercises, which will begin at 7 p.m. at the Outdoor Performing Arts Facility. A reception in honor of the graduates will be held at the site immediately following the program.

Degrees will be conferred by Acting President Andrew J. Kuchman, and names of the graduates will be read as they receive their diplomas from deans of the various schools of the university.

The honorary doctor of humane letters degree will be awarded posthumously to SIUE President John S. Rendleman, who died March 4. It will be presented to Mrs. Rendleman by Dr. Kuchman on behalf of the SIUE Board of Trustees.

Also to be awarded posthumously is the bachelor of science in elementary education degree to Patricia Ann McDermott, who died Oct. 9, 1975. Mrs. McDermott, a resident of Swansea, would have completed all requirements for the degree during the fall quarter. The award will be presented to her husband, James.

Recipients of Teaching Excellence Awards, considered the highest honor the university can bestow on a faculty member for the quality of the professor's instruction, are John L. Oldani and Joseph A. Mumshaw.

Oldani, associate professor, department of English language and literature, School of Humanities, will receive the senior award. Mumshaw, assistant professor, department of psychology, School of Education, and Dickie A. Spurgeon, associate professor, department of English language and literature, School of Humanities, will receive the junior award.

The recipients are selected by a committee of faculty and students. Each will receive a plaque and a cash award of $1,000 provided by AMOCO Foundation, Inc.

Because of a tie vote in balloting by members of the Alumni Association, who annually select the University's "great teacher," two awards will be presented this year—to Billy John Rogers, assistant professor, department of psychology, School of Education, and Dickie A. Spurgeon, associate professor, department of English language and literature, School of Humanities. They will receive plaques and share the cash award of $1,000.

Special recognition also will be given at the commencement program to 11 graduates who are candidates for commissions in the U.S. Air Force. They and two graduates of McKendree College who also are cadets in the Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps Detachment at SIUE, will be commissioned in ceremonies at the university's Levey Library auditorium at 3 p.m. Saturday, June 12.

Program recognition will be given to six members of the faculty who are retiring and three faculty members who died in the past year.

A concert by the University Symphonic Band, conducted by Allan McMurray, assistant professor of music, will precede the commencement exercises, beginning at 6:30 p.m. Friday.

The procession is scheduled to begin at 7 p.m., followed by the invocation by the Rev. Joe Stites, a campus minister.

In the event of inclement weather, the starting time will be the same but the commencement program will be decentralized, with ceremonies at several indoor locations—all conducted by the Meridian Ballroom in the University Center by a public address system.

If the program is decentralized, the reception will be held in the University Center following the ceremonies.

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD Thurs., June 10, 1976 Page 13

Students, staff and faculty at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign donated a record 7,878 pints of blood to 309 Midwest hospitals and blood banks during the 1975-76 school year. Health care centers are able to receive whole blood or components such as plasma from UIUC include St. Elizabeth Hospital of Granite City.

Volunteer Illinois (VIP), a UIUC student organization which offers a variety of welfare services, organized monthly three-day blood drives and recruited donors. Pints were collected in centrally-located campus buildings and in six dormitories.

Four American Red Cross centers shared in sending units to UIUC, collecting blood, processing it and distributing fresh pints or components.

The nearby Champaign County Blood Bank collected from donors throughout the year and sent mobile units to dormitories. The blood it collected was used by the U. of I. Medical Center Blood Bank, Chicago, and by the Burrhill City and Cole hospitals in Champaign and the Mercer and Carle Foundation hospitals in Urbana.

The Champaign County Chapter of the American Red Cross contributed nurses and volunteers who donated 2,000 hours helping the staffs of mobile units.

The number of pints collected during the 1975-76 school year is a record. In 1972-73, when VIP organized the first monthly blood drives at any large U.S. university, 6,421 pints were collected. The drives yielded 5,022 pints in 1973-74 and 5,500 pints in 1974-75.

The 1975-76 total included 1,307 pints for the Mid-America Regional Red Cross Blood Program, Chicago; 267 for the Galeburg Regional Red Cross Blood Center; 2175 for the Peoria Regional Blood Center of the American Red Cross; 1,980 for the Missouri-Illinois Regional Red Cross Blood Program, St. Louis; and 2,149 pints for the Champaign County Blood Bank.

Three hundred and three hospitals and six blood banks in Illinois, Missouri, Iowa and Indiana were eligible to receive blood and blood components from centers that processed pints donated at UIUC. Forty-four of the hospitals and four of the blood banks are in Chicago and 34 of the hospitals are in St. Louis.

David Eisenman, staff adviser to the program, and VIP student leaders organized the drives when the need for donated blood suddenly increased in Illinois due to a new state law that stopped nearly all use of purchased blood.

Under an agreement with the American Red Cross, the program guarantees free blood to all UIUC students, faculty members and staff and their families anywhere in the U.S.

GC town levy rises

A Granite City Township tax levy of $603,327 for the current 1976-77 fiscal year was approved by the Town Board Monday night following a 7 p.m. public hearing in which a new budget totaling $1,073,027, the highest in the township's history, was approved. The Town Board, in a meeting preceding the regular City Council session, also gave final approval to the new budget which had been authorized in the public hearing an hour earlier, reappointed William Schooley as township attorney and approved a resolution authorizing the regular annual audit of township fund accounts. The new budget includes $614,400 to finance construction of a proposed new town hall and senior citizens center on the former Central Junior High School site at 21st Street and Delmar Ave. The item is an increase of $114,400 over last year's appropriation of $500,000 and is to be financed with federal revenue sharing funds, which requires no tax levy. The operating budget totals $603,327, including $179,776 in the town fund, $252,167 in the general assistance fund and $26,616 in the municipal retirement fund. The new tax levy is $49,985 higher than last year. On the basis of this budget, the Town Board approved tax levies of $176,687 in the town fund, $249,850 in the general assistance fund and $24,000 in the municipal retirement fund.

This levy will be against 1976 taxes collected in 1977. The 7 p.m. public hearing on the budget was attended by only five persons. Only one minor change was made in the tentative budget of the federal revenue sharing account. This involved an increase from $5,000 to $4,200 for the rental payments on the present senior citizens center on Edison Avenue which is paid by the township.

New budget items in the town fund include $26,700 in compensation for town officers, of which $15,000 is for the salary of the township assessor, $300 in per diem fees for the town clerk and $4,200 in per diem fees for the Town Board members. City Council members make up the town board. The town fund budget also includes $115,775 for expenses of the assessor's office. Of this total, $87,800 is earmarked for salaries for the chief deputy assessor, clerical workers and deputy assessors. A total of $10,912 also is appropriated as expense for the township collector's office in making the annual tax collection.

In the general assistance fund budget, a total of $178,250 is provided for home relief purposes, including $130,000 for food purchases, $8,500 for rent payments, $750 for fuel and $15,000 for power. The budget also provides $23,000 for hospital payments and $1,000 for burials. Administration expenditures in the federal assistance fund are projected at $49,100. A $500 contingency fund also is budgeted.

The Town Board Monday night also authorized a local tax collection by the town collector. While the Illinois constitution no longer permits a retention of fees for collecting taxes locally, expenses of the collection will be paid out of the town fund.

Youths threaten police

Boy, 10, hurt by bullet

Michael Burton, 10, of 3439 Roney Drive, was being treated this morning at St. Elizabeth Hospital for injuries he suffered when a blank bullet exploded in the garage of his home about 9:45 a.m. today, fragments striking his right shoulder, left arm and left leg.

He was considered in good condition today with minor wounds, authorities said. Officials said there were indications the boy may have struck the blank cartridge with a hammer, causing the firing cap to explode and the bullet to shatter.

A crowd ranging as high as 30 persons at one point, most of them teenagers, besieged Madison police headquarters shortly after 10 p.m. Wednesday as the result of an incident that stemmed from efforts by police officers to stop a gang of about 15 youngsters from discharging fireworks on the street.

The crowd went to the police station after Sgt. William Fanning arrested Donald Long, 18, of 54 Greiner Homes, in the 1600 block of Market Street where Fanning had been called by Patrolman Pete Koticki. Fanning reported he found a group of about 15 teenagers discharging fireworks.

He said one youth asked him "How did you have to be to drink Rosie O'Grady wine?" The boy then produced a bottle, Fanning reported.

He said the boy then began to run and Fanning put the squad car in gear to give chase. Instead of running straight, the boy ran in front of the police car and was bumped, the sergeant reported.

Fanning then placed him under arrest and took him to police headquarters. The crowd then gathered there, some of the youngsters shouting threats. Madison police called Venice officers to help disperse the group.

Police early today charged Long with illegal possession of liquor, resisting arrest and having an open bottle of liquor on the street.

Fanning said Long was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital for examination during the incident Wednesday night, but was returned to the jail a short time later.

Madison acts

in that case was based on an alleged ordinance violation in that the business employed an unlicensed masseuse.

The tavern license, issued in the name of Norma Bosworth, was based on "several incidents at the tavern," authorities said, the latest of which involved the fatal cutting of Patrick M. O'Brien, 20, of 1618 Fifth St., Madison, on May 11.

Mr. O'Brien's throat was slashed, apparently with a sharp instrument such as a razor or a large knife. A trail of blood was found from the door of the tavern to where the body was found across the street.

Dennis C. Pierce, 23, St. Louis, since has been indicted by the Madison County grand jury on a charge of murder in connection with the incident.

The message parlor was closed previously in June 1973. That closing followed alleged failure of the operator to file an assumed names document listing names of persons owning the business. It remained closed for several months during the summer, after the city passed an ordinance controlling health spas, but reopened in September that year.

funds for the first phase of construction work obviously constitutes state approval of the study.

The mayor said that under recommendations of the feasibility study, the overpass approach would begin at Benton Street. The overpass will span the railroad tracks to West Granite City.

City officials expect to finance the project with grants obtained through the Federal Aid to Urban Systems (FAUS).

The M.W. engineering study on which the proposed program announced by DOT this week was based was filed with the state highway department in October last year after a series of public hearings in which the project was given public endorsement.

Estimated cost of the grade separation on Nineteenth Street was fixed in the engineering study at $4.9 million.

The work at that site also would cost approximately $310,000 in damages to property, according to the study.

Single site for recycling of aluminum

One of the two recycling locations in Granite City where the public redeems aluminum for cash will be discontinued after the Reynolds Aluminum recycling plant in Belleville, said the final collection at Nantux Village Shopping Center will be made June 17 from 1:30 p.m. until 4:30 p.m.

Regular collections by a Reynolds mobile unit in Granite City will continue on the second and fourth Saturday of each month, from noon until 2 p.m. at Venc, Inc., distributors at the intersection of Highway 111 and State Aid 35. The schedule includes this Saturday.

Poel said total collections of aluminum in the St. Louis metropolitan area last month exceeded 80,000 pounds, equal to more than two million aluminum beverage cans, with groups and individuals being paid more than $14,000 for their recycling efforts.

Reynolds pays 15 cents a pound for all-aluminum cans and other clean household aluminum such as pie plates, aluminum foil, frozen food and dinner trays and dip, pudding and meat containers.

Certain other items — including aluminum siding, gutters, aluminum storm doors and window frames and lawn furniture tubing — are also worth 15 cents a pound if properly prepared. Such aluminum must be free of all foreign materials and cut to lengths not exceeding three feet. It should not be mixed with aluminum cans.

Ozone alert in part of county

A high pressure system causing an ozone build-up is continuing north of Interstate 270 and west of I-55, including the Alton, Wood River and Edwardsville areas.

Persons in those areas who are highly susceptible to respiratory ailments should stay indoors, according to an Illinois Environmental Protection Agency spokesman.

An ozone level of 17 parts per million was recorded Monday and resulted in a "yellow alert" being issued Tuesday. The EPA begins to issue ozone watches when the level reaches 07 ppm. Half the Chicago area also is under alert.

The EPA spokesman said levels as high as 171 in Wood River and 136 in East St. Louis were recorded Tuesday.

The 17 ppm figure is the highest level of ozone recorded in the region since readings began three years ago, it was noted. The situation could continue as long as the weather is hot and sunny, with little wind.

At 17, some people notice burning of the eyes, throat and lungs. The over-all effect is a mild discomfort which usually disappears when the ozone disperses, it was related.

To those highly susceptible to respiratory ailments, the discomfort can be more severe and they may be more tired than normal. Health officials warn persons so affected to stay indoors during ozone alerts and, when outdoors, to avoid traffic-congested areas.

The public should drive autos as seldom as possible during a yellow alert to cut down on exhaust fumes, the EPA says. Some industries, including refineries, have been asked to reduce emissions of hydrocarbons and nitric oxides under the alert.

Record Play Day turnout

A record turnout for recent years was reported at Monday's 1976 Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce Play Day, held at Sunset Hills Country Club.

A smorgasbord dinner that night was attended by 210.

Golf leaders honored included Ron Tillery, 71 for 18 holes, Terry Tensary 73 and Dave Knollman, 75. Von Dee Cruse and Art Schwartzkopf hit closest to the pin, and longest drives were by Edwin Reiniger and John Honechak. Play Day Chairman Herman Schroeder was introduced at the dinner by Chamber President William F. Wisler.

Rites Friday for father of GC man

Walter B. Waukatis, 51, of 320 Central St., Collinsville, father of Larry Waukatis of Granite City, died Tuesday at Veterans Hospital, Jefferson Barracks, Mo.

He was a former employee of the Lake Side Roofing Co., Granite City.

Other survivors include his wife, Rachel; another son and one daughter; his mother and two brothers, all of Collinsville; a sister and two half-sisters.

Services will be at 9:30 a.m. Friday at a Collinsville funeral home.

Parade plans by Division of Chamber

The board of directors of the Women's Division of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce held its final meeting of the 1975-76 year Wednesday evening at the Chamber office.

Mrs. Janet Partney, president, named Miss Dorothy Davis as chairman of a nominating committee.

New officers will be elected in September. Plans were finalized for a float which is to be in the Quad-City Bicentennial parade on July 3.

Mrs. Mary Jessop, chairman of the division's picnic to be held in August, announced it will be held at Mrs. Norma Schroeder's farm in Michael, Ill.

Bell may seek new rate hike

Illinois Bell Telephone Co. is planning to ask the Illinois Commerce Commission in the near future for another rate hike sufficient to increase the company's funds between $100 million and $150 million per year.

James E. Olson, president of Illinois Bell, told a shareholders meeting yesterday in Champaign that "there is no question," a rate increase will be sought soon.

Olson also warned that a 25-cent pay phone call is foreseeable in the near future.

Induct 3 new GC Rotarians

Granite City Rotarians on Tuesday inducted as new members Kenneth Davis, George E. Moore Sr. and William Frazier. Later induction is planned for Robert McIride.

Past President A. H. Froemling and Pres. Bill H. Terrell were in charge. Speakers were Steve Bristol on club service, Larry Dew on vocational service, Richard West on community service and George T. Wilkins Sr. on international service.

Girl, 15, charged

A 15-year-old Granite City girl was arrested and charged with reckless driving, failure to give information after an accident and not having a driver's license after her auto allegedly crashed into a fence and left the scene at 12:15 p.m. Wednesday.

Witnesses said a car traveling at a high rate of speed on Kate Avenue tried to turn left onto Proper Avenue, but went out of control, went through the front yards at 2500 and 2506 Proper Ave., crossed the median and crashed into the fence behind the home of Jean Taylor, 2512 E. 27th St., downing about 75 feet of fencing. The car then drove from the scene, but was stopped a short time later by officers.

Illinoisans' Bicentennial gift to the nation—Sound, light at old capitol

Springfield's Old State Capitol—principal forum of Abraham Lincoln's public life for 34 years—will "come to life again" through the magic of today's electronics when "Sound and Light at the Old State Capitol" is dedicated July 4.

Illinois Bicentennial Commission Executive Director Michael Linderman said the official Bicentennial gift of the citizens of Illinois to the citizens of the nation, "Sound and Light at the Old State Capitol," will premiere at 8 o'clock the evening of the Fourth and be presented every summer evening thereafter for years to come.

"Sound and Light at the Old State Capitol" is a 45-minute-long electronic re-creation of the story of Lincoln's relationship with the Old State Capitol.

Each evening after dark (weather permitting), the audience will be seated in a special viewing area near the building. Then the story will be told by music, voices, sound effects and lights constantly changing in color, focus and intensity.

The concept is based on the ability of the human imagination, when stimulated by sound and light suggestions, to envision the past as present.

The sound-and-light spectacle was first developed in France during the 1950s. It has since spread to Egypt (at the Pyramids of Giza), Greece (the Acropolis), Great Britain (the Tower of London) and other European countries.

Sound-and-light programs may be viewed at other sites in the U.S.: at Independence Hall in Philadelphia and at George Washington's home, Mount Vernon.

The show at Mount Vernon, titled "The Father of Liberty," was presented to President Ford in May by French President Valéry Giscard d'Estaing as a Bicentennial gift of the French nation to the American people.

"Sound and Light at the Old State Capitol" presents the story of Abraham Lincoln in Springfield, where he rose from small-town lawyer to President-elect.

It was at the Old State Capitol that Lincoln served as a state representative, practiced law, was nominated for U.S. senator, delivered the speech that led to the famous debates with Stephen A. Douglas, waited for news of his election as President, and began to organize his administration.

"But Sound and Light at the Old State Capitol" is not just an interesting story about a famous man," Linderman said. "Nor is it a pageant, a history lecture or a guided tour."

"For the thousands of visitors from all over the world who come to Springfield because of the Lincoln mystique, the production will be a dramatic experience reaching its audience not so much through the mind but through the senses. It is a program for people of all ages."

"Abraham Lincoln, perhaps as much as any man in our history, drew from and added to the understanding of the human values of freedom, justice and democracy we cherish today. "Lincoln's bond with the common man was forged during his Springfield years. The Old Capitol is where the name of Abraham Lincoln became equated with the unspoken but understood longing of people everywhere for the preservation of freedom and respect for human rights."

The story is narrated by the late Lee J. Cobb; it was his last professional performance, completed the week before his death Feb. 11.

In a career that spanned more than four decades, Cobb acted on Broadway—most notably as Willie Loman in Arthur Miller's "Death of a Salesman"; in more than 40 feature films—from "The Song of Bernadette" to "On the Waterfront" and "Twelve Angry Men"; and on television—in plays and, for five years, as Judge Garth in the series "The Virginian."

Paul Lambert is the voice of Abraham Lincoln. Whit Bissell reads the words of Douglas.

Lambert has appeared on television in such plays as "The Missiles of October" and in feature films—most recently "All the President's Men." Bissell's television credits include appearances in "Sundburg's Lincoln" and "Police Story."

Voices, sound effects, and music—especially composed and conducted for the production by Robert Wykes—were recorded on a one-inch 8-track tape with six audio channels and are played back through one or more of 11 high fidelity speakers, strategically located so that the sound source seems to "move."

The lighting system consists of more than 180 lighting fixtures, 35 solid-state dimmers, and 100 load switches.

A computer console "reads" the seventh track of the 3600-foot-long tape for cues to activate thousands of sound-and-light cues and effects that have been programmed into the console. Once started, the entire program runs to completion automatically.

"Sound and Light at the Old State Capitol" was produced by Guggenheim Productions, Inc., of Washington, D.C., and written by Charles Guggenheim and Leo Brady. Werner Schumann was executive producer.

The award-winning production company (two Oscars and five nominations; an Oscar and an Emmy for the documentary "Robert Kennedy Remembered" in 1969) was assisted by lighting director Hugh E. Lester, lighting consultant for the National Air and Space Museum of the Smithsonian Institution, by sound system designer Don Bailey, of Adcom Systems, Inc., Bethesda, MD; and by sound director C. Robert Fine, of Fine Communications Corp., Harrison, NY—experts in the field of sound electronics (voice effects, for example, for the film "The Exorcist").

Historical accuracy of the script was verified by the staff of the Illinois State Historical Library, the state agency responsible for operating and maintaining the Old State Capitol and its sound-and-light production.

Linderman emphasized that, unlike most other sound-and-light spectacles, "Sound and Light at the Old State Capitol" will be free.

Should attendance exceed the 400-seat-capacity viewing area, a second presentation will be given each evening.

Both public and private funds were used to create "Sound and Light at the Old State Capitol." $600,000 appropriated by the General Assembly to the commission, and $50,000 in private contributions raised by the Abraham Lincoln Association.

"Well over a quarter of a million people visit the Old State Capitol each year," Linderman said.

"The historic site interpretation afforded by 'Sound and Light at the Old State Capitol' will permit tens of thousands of additional visitors—beyond the building's regular 9-to-5 visitors—to absorb the meaning Abraham Lincoln holds for the heritage of democracy in America."

In 1977 and subsequent years, the production will be presented each evening (weather permitting) from the Saturday before Memorial Day through the Saturday following Labor Day.

Two GC firms are chartered

The state of Illinois has issued corporate charters to two Granite City firms, Secretary of State Michael J. Howlett has announced.

A domestic corporation charter was granted to Creative Arts Limited, 1744 Olive St., to deal in "retail and wholesale goods, wares and merchandise of every kind," according to the charter.

Harold B. Koch, Mary Frances Koch, and Mary Frances Turley are listed as charterers. It lists 18,000 shares of non-par value.

Correspondent is Theodore Van Winkle, McLeanboro, Ill. Howlett also announced that a foreign corporation charter has been issued to A&A Auto Sales, Inc., a Missouri firm, doing business at 3675C Namerick Road, Billie Anderson of that address is charterer and correspondent.

Delbert Wayne Angle, 41 Parklawn West, is president, with Shirley Rapoff, 2535 Edison Ave., as secretary. The corporation is "to deal in new or used motor vehicles." Stated capital is $1,000.

SEEK STOLEN TRUCK

Police are searching for a red Ford pickup truck with the name S. M. Wilson & Co. on each side, stolen from the 2800 block of Idaho Street this week. The truck has a cracked windshield. There was a yellow raincoat and a hardhat on the dashboard when the vehicle was taken.

Eleanor B. Johnson and Paul Haldeman are wed

Miss Eleanor Brett Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ned B. Johnson, Conyngham, Pa., became the bride of Paul Andrew Haldeman Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul A. Haldeman, Washington, Mo., May 28 at the First United Presbyterian Church parlor, 2nd Street and Delmar Avenue.

The Rev. David Bruce Maston officiated at the double ring ceremony at one o'clock in the afternoon.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a bone color mullin dress with long full sleeves and an embroidery trimmed band on the collar, cuffs and bodice.

She wore a corsage of pale yellow daisies, baby's breath and greenery.

Matron of honor Mrs. Ronald H. Hall, a twin sister of the bride, selected a blue and cream leather print polyester crepe dress complemented with a wrist corsage of pastel pink daisies and baby's breath.

The groom chose his brother Ronald Haldeman as his best man.

A long sleeved soft blue polyester knit dress was worn by the bride's mother, and a coat dress of pink knit by the groom's mother. Both had wrist corsages of pink sweetheart roses, baby's breath and ferns.

The bride was a 1966 graduate of Hazleton High School, Hazleton, Pa., and attended the Albert Einstein Medical Center School of Nursing for one and one-half years. She was employed by the Einstein Medical Center in Philadelphia as a licensed practical nurse for six years before moving to Granite City in December 1974. Since then she has worked at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, and is an L.P.N. in a psychiatric unit.

The groom was graduated from the Granite City Senior High School in 1962 and from the Tennessee Institute of Broadcasting. He holds a first class license from the Federal Communications Commission, and has attended Southern Illinois University. He is now an agent for the Prudential Insurance Co.

A reception buffet was held in the Edwards Room of the Holiday Inn, Edwardsville, following the ceremony. After a honeymoon in Arizona, the couple will reside in Granite City.

Patchworkers to attend camp

Debbie Burnett, president of the Patchworkers 4-H Club, conducted a monthly meeting last week at St. Elizabeth School hall and accepted the pledge of allegiance and Christy Kessler gave the 4-H pledge. Sixteen members answered roll call by naming their favorite game.

Shower honors Miss Lattimore

A bridal shower was given last week honoring Miss Karen Lattimore who will become the bride of Timothy Zuhel on June 28 at St. Margaret Mary Church. The event was given at the home of Mrs. Dennis Buckingham, 16 Watertown Circle.

Other hostesses were Miss Jerja Kerne, Miss Carol Roberts and Miss Mary Lattimore. Decorations consisted of white, pink and white streamers accented by large white wedding bells and satin bows and a coordinating table centerpiece.

Games were played and several prizes were awarded. Refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Madame Donna Pineda, Donna Foville, Lorraine Weiss, Joan Linhart, Judy Linhart, Pat Wells, Lorraine Kider, Madeline Wenger, Mary Lou Virginia, Ruth Lattimore, Virginia Roberts, Marilyn Aetzel, and Lucille Lattimore. Misses Mary Geroff, Brenda Randall, Mary Brewer, Denise Papp, Pat Centrell, and Debbie Aetzel. Not of guest guests included Mrs. Gwen Zuhel and Mrs. Margaret Mussetier.

Henry Rozyckes observe 50th year of marriage

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rozycke, 1913 Rhodes St., Madison, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary with their family by attending Mass at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Madison. The Rev. Ralph Scherrer, OFM, officiated.

About 120 families later joined the couple at a reception at the Polish Hall in Madison.

Among the guests were members of their wedding party, Joe Rozycke, St. Louis County, a brother of Mr. Rozycke; Mrs. Gertrude Geistdoerfer, Pinckneyville, Mrs. Rozycke's sister, Mr. and Mrs. Frank (Martha) Matecki, St. Louis and Mrs. Helen Litwinski of Nashville, Ill. Andrew Kachuba of Florida was the only attendant unable to be present.

The out-of-town guest list also included brothers, sisters, nieces, nephews and their families, together with other relatives of the honorees.

Mr. and Mrs. Rozycke were married May 24, 1926 at Our Lady of Perpetual Help Catholic Church in Posen, Ill.

The guests of honor have resided in Madison since 1928. Mrs. Rozycke, the former Theresa Sroka, is a native of Pinckneyville. Her husband was born and reared in Venice.

Flag Day salute to Pres. Madison

President James Madison will help celebrate Flag Day, June 14, at the Madison County Court House. He may not be there in person, but he will be there in bronze.

David Huntley, chairman of the department of art and design at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, was commissioned by the Madison County Bicentennial Commission to make a bronze sculpture of the fourth American president. It will be unveiled at noon Monday, June 14, in the Madison County Court House during a ceremony in celebration of lobby remodeling at the courthouse.

Huntley said his sculpture of James Madison (1751-1836) is life-size. It measures five feet, six inches tall, and President Madison's head will be large enough to wear a seven and one-fourth hat size.

Huntley used the lost wax, or cire perdue, sculpturing process.

The artist first sculpted a model in clay. Then a plaster mold was made from the clay, with a wax mold made from the plaster mold.

Investment material to form the final mold is poured in and around the hollow wax shell. This mold is heated so the wax flows out of it, and then molten bronze is poured into the mold.

Madison was an extremely popular president during his term in office, although he helped write the Constitution and his wife, Dolley Madison, was known for Thomas Jefferson. But he had at least one friend in this area.

According to Katherine Moorhead, librarian for the Madison County Historical Museum, Ninian Edwards, founder of Edwardsville, was appointed territorial governor by President Madison.

"Three new counties were established by Edwards on Sept. 14, 1812," Miss Moorhead said. "The largest and most fertile of the three counties was named Madison. This was Edwards' first opportunity to honor the President."

Mrs. Mary Kane, community development coordinator for Madison County, has explained that funding for the sculpture and renovation of the lobby was provided by Madison County and through a grant from the Illinois Bicentennial Commission.

Materials for the Madison sculpture, which will be permanently installed in the center of the courthouse lobby, were provided by SUE. Mrs. Kane added that the project has received "fantastic response from business and a r.e.a. community organization."

For the Flag Day activities, State Sen. Sam M. Vadalabene will be master of ceremonies. Other speakers will include Huntley and SUE. Acting President Andrew J. Kochman, Mrs. Irene Mindrup of the Madison County Historical Museum will give a history of Madison County.

Swim class for infants

A new swimming class for infants, ages four months to a year, will be given at the Wilson Park swimming pool starting June 14 and continuing through June 28. A second class will start on July 5 and continue through July 14.

New officers of the "Y" Senior Citizens were installed during ceremonies last week. Eleanor Patterson, outgoing president, served as installing officer.

Newly-elected officers are Lucile Pierce, president; Mae Finley, vice-president; Evelyn Stark, secretary; Anna Kuruz, treasurer; Virginia Taylor, corresponding secretary; Lorraine Ronney, Financial secretary; Augusta Bender, and J. J. Schuler.

The SIUE department of music will present a workshop

The SIUE department of music will present a workshop based on the Kodaly Concepts of Music Education during June. Donald Loucks, assistant professor of music, said the workshop will begin June 14 and continue through June 18. Sessions are scheduled in Room 1402 of the Peck Classroom Building from 9 a.m. until 7 p.m. Johnetta Haley, clinician and coordinator of the workshop, said sessions will focus on the philosophies and teaching of Zoltan Kodaly in relation to music programs in American schools today.

Dorothy Tulloss, professor emeritus, will be the guest clinician. Winner of the SIUE outstanding teacher award in 1975, she has extensive knowledge of and enthusiasm for the Kodaly approach.

For the Kodály approach. The Institute will lead seminars in curriculum and methodology, recorders and solfège. In addition, area music educators will conduct workshops directed toward adaptations of the Kodály method at various grade levels and through individualized instruction.

Four to seven quarter hours of credit may be received for workshop attendance, or attendance may be based on credit earned for basic without credit. Registration is open to classroom teachers, music specialists, and music teachers and undergraduate or graduate students majoring either in music or education.

Additional information may be obtained by writing: Mrs. Johnetta Haley, Box 71, Southern Illinois University, Carbondale, Illinois 62814, or by telephoning 982-2870 or 992-3300.

Special guests were Edgar Paddock, president of the Granite City Senior Citizens Council; Norma Mendoza, staff member of RSVP, and Harold Rudolph, executive director of the YMCA.

Paddock spoke briefly and commended the group for its program at the Senior Citizens center. Mrs. Mendoza invited the RSVP volunteers to an awards luncheon to be held at Fischers on June 22.

She also invited any others who may be interested to attend by paying for their own lunches. Rudolph expressed his appreciation to the out-going officers for their cooperation.

He indicated that he looks forward to some new dimensions of programs for Senior Citizens for two reasons, first because of new officers and their enthusiasm, and secondly a special grant for senior citizens programs provided to the "Y" by the Southwestern Illinois Area Agency on Aging.

Auxiliary 113 names Girl Staters

Mrs. George K. Durbin, Girl State chairman for American Legion Auxiliary, Tri-City Unit 113, today announced the selection of Susan Ann Hunsinger and Francene Litzelman as unit representatives to the 36th annual Girl State program.

The 1976 delegates will attend the Illinois Girl State project, sponsored by the Illinois Department of the American Legion Auxiliary at Jacksonville, beginning Sunday through June 20.

Both girls are junior year students at Granite City high schools.

Miss Hunsinger, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hunsinger, 5 Del Rio Ave., is a student at Granite City High School South and a member of the National Honor Society, Red Peppers, Social Studies and Leadership clubs.

Miss Litzelman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Litzelman, 16 Fontainebleau Drive, is the new president of the Student Council at Granite City High School North, captain of the Flag Squad, National Honor Society member, past president of the Spanish Club and works in the main office at the school.

Purpose of the Girl State program is to provide citizenship training for able high school juniors from all sections of Illinois, Mrs. Durbin explained.

Participants are afforded an opportunity to live together as self-governing citizens and to learn "by doing" the duties of responsibilities, as well as the rights and privileges of American citizenship, in order to better understand and participate in the functioning of government.

Mrs. Durbin explained that "Girls State" is a mythical state, patterned after the State of Illinois governmental bodies as closely as possible.

The girls live in separate cities, form two parties, elect delegates, and officers, hold conventions and caucuses, campaign and perform other duties pertaining to various public offices.

To be eligible to attend, candidates must be in their junior year of high school.

Miss Hunsinger, Miss Litzelman, their mothers and Mrs. Durbin attended a Girl State tea in May at the American Legion Hall, Highland, when preparations and programs were reviewed concerning the program.

Committee approves civic center project

Despite vocal opposition by Mrs. Celeste Stibel (R, Belleville), the Illinois House Rules Committee granted emergency status by a 15-1 vote Tuesday to legislation authorizing civic centers, including one in Madison County.

"Rep. Clyde Choate (D, Anna) said the state encourages tourism and conventions and should cooperate in providing needed facilities.

"If you help Springfield or Peoria or any other place, you help the state of Illinois," Choate stressed.

Funding is from cigarette and pari-mutuel funds that have been used to pay for McCormick Place in Chicago. That center's bonds are about to be retired.

Summer selections are mainly required courses

No academic classes are being offered at Granite City High School North this summer, but about 20 North students have agreed to be placed in courses at GCHS South.

With the exception of one elective art course, all of the 12 courses being offered this summer are required courses—in English, history, computer, civics, literature, consumer home management, oral communications and social problems.

Band is being offered at each high school.

Enrollment was small this summer due to a $32.50 tuition fee for each two-hour course taken. After registrations were completed last week, the final list of classes offered was determined.

July 5 will be a vacation day and classes will conclude July 14.

State funding of summer classes was ended this year.

Robbery, theft at Glik's

A robbery and a purse theft occurred as separate incidents within an hour at Glik's Department Store, Third Street and Madison Avenue, Madison, Monday afternoon.

A black youth armed with a pistol robbed a checkout clerk of an undetermined amount of money taken from the cash register at 4:18 p.m., according to Madison police.

Store officials said the youth first bought a pair of shoes, took them to the checkout counter and pulled a gun from a trouser pocket as the clerk was placing the shoes in a bag.

The robber only gestured toward the cash register with the gun and the clerk handed him the money. He placed the money in a bag with the shoes and walked out of the store, heading south on Madison Avenue.

He was described as about 150 to 160 pounds in weight, wearing blue jeans, a white shirt and a red cap.

An hour later, at 5:10 p.m., Valeta Bauder, 708 Third St., Venice, reported that three women walked up to her in the ladies wear department at Glik's and crowded her out of the way. A few minutes later, she said, she discovered her purse was missing. The purse contained $15 cash and credit cards.

Seek home for family of 10

The Madison County Office of Public Aid is seeking a suitable home for a family of 10, which includes eight children between the ages of 4 months and 15 years.

The dwelling can be rental property or available for purchase on contract for deed, according to Fred Funkhouser, director of Madison County Public Aid.

The family has been evicted from its former home in Alton, after the landlord died and heirs to the estate had other uses for the property. They had lived at that location for several years.

Funkhouser said the dwelling need not be located in a specific area, but should be within Madison County.

He said the father is 45 and receives social security payments plus supplemental public and funds. The mother is several years younger.

A relative living in East Alton may be contacted at 1-258-8078 by any person having an available house. She has agreed to act as intermediary, because it is not known where the family will be located temporarily.

Funkhouser said permission was granted by the Illinois Public Aid office to house the family at a hotel Tuesday night.

"What happens next will have to be determined on a day-by-day basis," he said.

"We have contacted all area housing authorities, but there are no large apartments open for such a big family," the director explained.

Rites Friday for Mrs. Theo Payne

Funeral services will be held at 7 p.m. Friday at the Loring Civic Center for Mrs. Theo Payne, 63 of Thomas-Terry Homes, Brooklyn.

Survivors include two daughters, Ivory Payne of Brooklyn and Mrs. Olivia Thomas, Compton, Calif.; two sisters, Mrs. Frankie Williams of Madison and Mrs. Helen Ross of East St. Louis.

Mrs. Payne was a member of the Quin Chapel CME Church, Brooklyn.

Reschedule murder trial

The trial of Angelo Dwayne Baker, 17, of 18 Greener Homes, Madison, on the fatal shooting of Frank J. Riddle, 59, Madison, March 11, and the wounding of Riddle's wife, Ann, was postponed in Madison County Circuit Court Monday until July 4.

Baker is charged with murder, robbery, attempted murder and a count of murder while committing a felony.

New rules on paying phone bills

Attorney General William J. Scott reported another victory in his "continuing effort to protect Illinois consumers from credit practices."

In a unanimous decision, the Illinois Appellate Court for the Fourth Judicial District, Springfield, agreed with Scott's contention that the Illinois Telephone Association, an unincorporated organization of Illinois telephone utilities, had no standing to seek judicial review of an Illinois Commerce Commission order. The ITA sought to participate as a representative of Illinois telephone companies.

The court held that since the Illinois Telephone Association brought suit in a representative capacity, without joining all its members, the association had no standing.

Scott said, "This is a great victory for Illinois telephone subscribers because the CC rules establish limits and prohibitions on the utility rather than on the consumers." He said the new rules benefit consumers in the following manner:

A. They extend the net payment period and final due date from 10 to 21 days for residential customers.

B. Establish two additional ways for a consumer to establish his credit: (1) advance payment deposit (non-interest bearing) based on 30 days of service and (2) membership in a composite credit group. The company is to advise consumers of the various options to establish credit.

C. Require utilities to establish written procedures for employees processing consumer credit problems and train such employees in procedures to eliminate arbitrary and discriminatory treatment of consumers.

D. Prohibit the utility from denying credit without verifying credit references provided by the consumer, to eliminate arbitrary or discriminatory treatment of the consumer.

E. Specifically define conditions under which a utility may request a deposit from consumers, to eliminate arbitrary requirements of deposits from consumers.

F. Provide consumers with accurate, clear and concise bills for services rendered.

G. Require a utility to bill for all services within one year of the date of the service or to forego its authority to collect a charge for such service.

H. Establish a uniform notice of disconnection of service which will be unmistakably recognized by the consumer.

I. Establish a uniform minimum 21-day pay period for residential service and a uniform 14-day pay period for non-residential service, since local telephone service is billed in advance of the time it is rendered.

J. Establish a standard statewide eight-day notice period for a disconnection sent through the mail, to provide sufficient time for the consumer to take steps to avoid disconnection of his service.

K. Require utilities to assign specific personnel in local offices to hear consumer complaints concerning disconnection of service.

L. Prohibit the utility from disconnecting service for non-payment of a disputed bill when the consumer pays his normal bill and all subsequent bills pending resolution of the dispute.

M. Require notice to the customer of any reconstructor charge prior to the disconnection of his service, and require waiver of one reconstructor charge per calendar year to avoid penalizing the consumer.

N. Require the utility to inform the consumer as to the right of appeal and to the procedure of pursuing such course.

O. Require the utility to inform the consumer as to the right of appeal and to the procedure of pursuing such course.

P. Require the utility to inform the consumer as to the right of appeal and to the procedure of pursuing such course.

Model plane jamboree

The East Side Radio Controlled Model Airplane Club, Edwardsville, is inviting the public to its fifth annual "fun fly jamboree" Sunday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., adjacent to the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville soccer field.

Competition is sanctioned by the Academy of Model Aeronautics. Contestants from within a 300-mile radius of St. Louis will compete in fun fly (spins, loops and rolls), sport pylon, stand off scale and combat.

A concession stand and free parking will be available.

The contest site can be reached by taking Interstate 270 to Highway 157 (SIUE campus turnoff) and then following SIUE markers to the athletic fields.

For further information, Quad Cityans may contact William Niehaus at 254-4583.

Descriptions follow:
FUN FLY:
The object is for each contestant's aircraft to achieve the most loops, spins and rolls within a time limit.

STAND OFF SCALE:
Models of full-size aircraft are judged for faithfulness to scale (size) and detail. They exhibit the finest workmanship and require many months to complete. In order to win, these models must fly and perform a prescribed set of maneuvers.

PYLON RACE:
Three to four planes race a closed course around pylons placed 500 feet apart. Fastest time for 10 laps determines the winner. Two or three rounds are used for scoring and matching of contestants. It is a spectacular event, since the flying is near the ground and at speeds over 100 miles an hour.

COMBAT:
Contestants attempt to cut 50 feet streamers attached to control planes with their propellers. Up to six planes simultaneously "dogfight" for 10 minutes. Scoring for cuts and penalties for losing the streamer determine the eventual winner after a round robin of contestants.

Washington U. degrees to 4
Washington University, St. Louis awarded 1,320 graduate degrees and 1,219 undergraduate degrees at its 115th commencement exercises at the campus this spring.

Graduates from Granite City are: Bernard S. Miller III, 161 Lindell Blvd., bachelor of arts; Andrew J. Miosky, 3128 Harvard Place, bachelor of arts; Stephen M. Underkoffler, 291 Fortune Drive, bachelor of arts; and Charles Edwin Hileman Jr., 2330 Lynch, doctor of law.

Receive top award
Miss Kathleen A. Stacy, a graduating senior at Granite City High School, received the top vocal award at an annual banquet given at Charlie's Restaurant honoring senior vocal students.

She was the winner of the National School Choral Award presented to the senior whose performance, service, cooperation and contributions to the department were considered the most outstanding during his or her high school years.

Fifteen other seniors received awards for having earned the required number of service points.

TO ALL WHO USE THE MCKINLEY TOLL BRIDGE:

The Venice City Officials wish to thank everyone using the bridge. When the underpass and Route 151 are completed, it will have many features for convenience. We will try during construction to make it as easy as possible to use the bridge. Again, please bear with us for awhile.

Thanks again.

Members of the Niedringhaus PTA and graduate students in City Planning from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville had lunch Monday in Shelter Five at Wilson Park to discuss possible ideas for development of land around the school with rope climbs, climbing ladders, basketball, balance beams and

New sweeper ready for use

A new street sweeper purchased by the city at a cost of $25,992 was to be placed in full-time operation by the city street department this week following a delay in servicing and preparing the sweeper for operation, according to Lionel Portelli, superintendent of streets.

The sweeper was purchased from the Whaler Equipment Co. of St. Louis, and was delivered at a time when mechanics were on strike in St. Louis and were unavailable to service the equipment "and eliminate the bugs that usually show up in such equipment when it first is used," Portelli said.

Because of the delay in operation of the equipment, the Granite City Council held up payment for the sweeper until it was made operable.

Portelli said minor adjustments were completed several weeks ago and the sweeper was placed in use. "Several other problems developed, but these have been taken care of by the company and the sweeper will go into full-time use this week," the street superintendent said Tuesday.

The sweeper was financed out of federal revenue sharing funds.

Probation

prisons, we have to think carefully before sending young offenders there.

"Still, if they don't alter their behavior or if they are repeat offenders, we are going to ship them out," Judge Beatty said.

"We also are attaching some new terms to probation. We tell an offender that if he wants to stay on probation and out of jail, he is going to either have to return to school or get a job."

"While on probation, we want them to improve themselves or their situation."

"If they get a job, they know they'll be back in jail when they lose it."

"This gives them a taste of making money and spending it and living a useful life."

"The Madison County Jail is brutal. If a fellow on probation knows he is going to spend another 90 days there at the end of his sentence, he is going to avoid losing himself up and he is going to try to prove that he does not belong in jail."

"We want to keep the pressure on them. 'Straighten out or go in' is the message we want to get over."

"Probation is no longer an easy ride, like it used to be," Beatty asserted.

He cited statistics that more probationers are being revoked in Madison County currently than ever before.

In 1974, six probationers were revoked and the offenders were sent to the penitentiary. In 1975, that number increased to 10.

In the first quarter of this year, six probationers were revoked. The total has risen to more than 11 since the year began.

The number of petitions to revoke probation is rising sharply. The state's attorney's office filed 11 during 1974, 42 in 1975 and 26 in the first quarter of 1976, Beatty related.

He said the number of felony convictions and the percentage being sent to prison also is increasing rapidly.

There was a 66 per cent increase in the number of felony convictions between 1974, with 196 convictions, and 1975, with 328 convictions.

In the first quarter of 1976, 100 persons were convicted of felonies, 37 more than the 63 in the first quarter of 1975.

The percentage of convicted felons being given probation also has been dropping and now is taking a drastic drop.

Statistics show 63 per cent of the convicted felons received probation in 1974, and that was reduced to 57 per cent in 1975.

In 1975, only 57 per cent of convicted felons received probation and that has declined to 43 per cent in the first quarter of 1976.

Even with only 43 per cent receiving probation, it is important to remember that these people have spent some time in the county jail — some of them up to three months — and some of them will be serving 30 to 60 days in jail at the end of the probation," Beatty reported.

He said there still is one loophole in the system that he is to be closed as quickly as the budget allows.

"This is when someone is charged with a felony and, through negotiations with the state's attorney's office, gets the charge reduced to a misdemeanor in return for a guilty plea."

Then they go down to the misdemeanor court with traffic offenders, shoplifters and all kinds of other law violators, all mixed in together.

"It is impossible to run a presentence investigation on all of these without quadrupling the staff on the probation department — which conducts the investigation."

"So, they may be put on probation when they already are on probation, because the judge does not know about the first probation."

"Plans are in the works for dividing the kinds of cases heard in the misdemeanor courts — to separate the more serious kinds of cases so we can order presentence investigations on those. You are going to see this in the very near future," Judge Beatty said.

He said news media are partly to blame for helping spread "a climate where youngsters feel they can commit a crime and get away with it, even if they are caught."

He added, "We are doing our part to change that climate, and we need to get that word out to young people and their parents."

"Once the kids know the courts are going to deal roughly with them and they are going to spend at least some time in jail, the word will spread and they are not going to commit these crimes."

"The word is starting to get out now, and we are beginning to see decreases in burglaries, drug abuse and other serious crimes."

"There are friends are getting some stiff prison sentences and they are beginning to think twice before they follow suit," Beatty said.

Chief Venzer agreed, saying he has begun to note a reduction in burglaries and other crimes.

"Let's just hope this drop continues."

"We are doing everything we can to solve these cases and see that the offenders go to prison. And the state's attorney's office and judges are following suit."

With the percentage of criminals who just repeat one crime after another approaching 70 per cent of all those convicted of felonies in the first place, it just seems logical that crime will drop when we get these people off the streets for a good long time.

"Couple that with friends who see these stiff sentences and are afraid to commit a crime — in fear of joining their pals in prison — and we expect a terrific crime drop here in 1976."

"It has not been easy, but we are working around-the-clock and are solving more cases than ever before."

"We are preparing cases for trial quicker and are building sounder and stronger cases against each one we send up, so that the state's attorney will have the ammunition to carry the case through a trial and won't have to make a deal for a light sentence," the chief asserted.

"Everybody is working

DOVER PICNIC as "folks from Tennessee and people with Tennessee in their hearts," were invited to meet at Wilson Park during the together as a team and these criminals are going to find out this team is good — and is devoted to putting criminals behind bars," a court official summarized.

GOSPEL MUSIC, bluegrass and country and western songs were performed by many talented musicians and singers during the Stewart County, Tenn., reunion at Wilson Park during the weekend. Many of those present took turns at the microphones entertaining the crowd at the picnic.

Seniors plan parade entry

Mrs. Elma Hoover reviewed recreational programs planned by the staff of the YMCA for Quasi-City senior citizens at a monthly meeting of the Granite City Council of Senior Citizens.

The meeting was held Monday at the Senior Citizen Center, 1818 Edison Ave. Plans were made for the senior citizens float entry in the Bicentennial parade on July 3.

Mrs. Margaret Rutter was appointed chairman of the parade committee.

Flag Day at St. John United

In observance of Flag Day (June 14), the children of St. John United Church of Christ Church School will participate in both worship services this Sunday. The program will be given at 9 a.m. and 10:30 a.m.

All the youngsters will be carrying and waving miniature American flags during a colorful procession, according to Mrs. Judy Stille and Mrs. Georgia Engke, who are in charge of the special program.

The event has been planned by the St. John Church Bicentennial Committee, as part of an ongoing series.

Members of the Junior Department will present a skit, depicting Betsy Ross and General George Washington as they discuss plans for the creation of an American flag.

The children will lead the worshippers in the pledge of allegiance to both the Christian and American flags.

Special music will be provided by the Chancel Choir, which will sing "The Pledge of Allegiance" by Reed.

The public is invited to attend all services at St. John.

Madison man bilked of $150

A man posing as a representative of the Illinois Power Co. obtained $150 from Floyd Levart, 2024 Harris St., Madison, Monday afternoon, after he told Levart that he had "adjusted" Levart's power bills and that he needed to collect the $150.

Levart told Madison police that the man also told him that the adjustments would give him Levart a $346 "refund" by taking the bills to the power company office in Granite City.

When he took the bills to the power company office, he was told that no one was making any bill adjustments or visiting any customers in the area.

According to Levart, the man asked to see his power bills and after looking them over said they were subject to adjustment, but that Levart would need to pay $150 before the adjustments could be completed.

Levart said he gave the man $150 cash and the man returned his bills, instructing him to take them to the Illinois Power office where he could collect a $346 refund.

Plan new pump controls

A faulty lift station in the sewer line at the Lockhaven pump station may constitute a violation of the Illinois Water Pollution Regulations that could subject the city to enforcement proceedings, the Granite City Council was informed by the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency Monday night.

City Street Superintendent Lionel Portall and City Engineer Monroe Brewer told the council that efforts are being made to resolve the problem which, they said, is caused primarily by the present electrode system which burns on the pump at the Lockhaven Drive pumping station.

Portall said that a new electrode system that will provide better controls for the pumps has been ordered and should be installed soon.

The sewer and lift station were decided to the city by the Archer Daniels Midland Co. which built the sewer line to handle sewage from the plant and discharge it into city sewers at the Lockhaven pump station. Brewer maintains that the lift station was poorly designed for the type of waste it was to carry, since soybean oil can short-circuit electrodes which control the turn-on of pumps at the station.

Brewer said the city has owned the lift station for one year, but feels the firm is responsible for replacing it because it handles only the ADM plant discharge to the point where the trouble exists. While ADM spokesmen said last week that they are willing to work with the city, Brewer referred to remarks by plant officials concerning the line as "apparently intended to damage my name," and said he believes the company should accept full responsibility for the line without question.

Alderman Sam Whitmer of the Second Ward also referring to statements by an ADM spokesman, said that mention by plant officials of a "compromise" is something "the city cannot consider."

He said the plant "was offered to the city as an operating unit and was accepted as such. There can be no compromise so far as I am concerned. Any cost in repairing or replacing the lift station must be with ADM. Let them install a system that will do the job."

Alderman Gerald Parmley of the Sixth Ward said the matter should be corrected immediately since "putting an oily substance in the (sewer) line can jam up other sewer lines farther down. I feel like Sam (Whitmer). There can be no compromise."

The notice by EPA that discharges of sewage from manholes could constitute a violation for which the city may be liable, was received from Lawrence W. Eastep, supervisor of Region Four of the Division of Water Pollution Control.

The notice said "During the past few months this agency (EPA) has received several complaints concerning the periodic outages of the subject sewage lift station. These complaints have been investigated by J. W. Mahlandt, P.E. At that time, Monroe Brewer and Jim Stack were contacted.

"It is our understanding that this lift station is equipped with an electrode starting system which will not properly operate. The apparent reason for this malfunction is that the electrodes become coated with oil and/or grease and therefore will not initiate the operation of the station's pumps. During these outages, sewage backs up in the incoming line and overflows at an upstream manhole. It has also been reported that sewage backs up into homes through their service connections.

"We also understand that, in addition to the homes along Lockhaven and Whippoorwill drives being tributary to the lift station, the Archer Daniels Midland soybean processing plant is tributary. Since domestic sewage does not normally contain significant amounts of oil, it is suggested that the wastewater characteristics from the ADM plant be carefully reviewed and analyzed.

"These discharges of raw sewage at the manhole may constitute a violation of the Illinois Water Pollution Regulations and the city could be liable to the subsequent enforcement provisions. A definite health hazard and nuisance condition also exists. It is suggested that immediate action be taken by the city to either repair or replace the lift station controls, or locate and eliminate the source of the oil discharge."

Ricco's II ruling reset for June 28

The Illinois Liquor Control Commission will rule June 28 on an appeal by Ricco's II of Granite City on a liquor license revocation by Mayor Paul Schuler, according to information received by the mayor Wednesday.

Schuler said he talked with Thomas Murphy, executive director of the state commission, who told him that a backing of work had delayed a ruling in the Ricco's II case, but that a decision will be rendered by the time of the commission's next meeting on June 28.

Schuler, who is the city's liquor control commissioner, said Murphy also told him that a 30-day limit in which to rule on appeals is believed by the commission to apply only to cases in which testimony is taken and not to cases which are appealed on the basis of the record.

The appeal in the Ricco's II case was made on the record and no hearing before the commission was held.

Mayor Schuler revoked the license last Dec. 23 following a lengthy hearing on a fatal shooting and a stabbing on the parking lot near the lounge on Dec. 8.

Sparks—Don't sign petition; it could cost Quad-Cityans millions

By WALTER SPARKS
Chairman,
Special Sewer Committee of Madison County Board

Consider all the facts before signing petitions against the sewer project. There are a few people circulating petitions against the sewer program and telling various types of untruths to get people to sign them.

They are telling people that they think that they can raise the $5,000,000 local share of matching funds for a lapin fee and revenue bonds. Your sewer committee has been told by our financial advisers that revenue bonds will be almost impossible to sell.

However, if they could sell revenue bonds, the cost would be at least $1,500,000 more than the program that is being proposed.

In addition, there would have to be a very large lapin fee, probably $800 to $1,000, put up right now by every property owner in the district, not just a few.

Also, the monthly bill would be much larger, and spread over a period of probably 30 years instead of 15.

That is why your sewer committee and our advisers decided that the special sewer area general obligation bond method was the only way that we could raise the $5,000,000 in time to meet our grant requirement by the Environmental Protection Agency.

It is estimated that to raise the money without selling bonds would cost each property owner around $1,400 if any one has that kind of money. Laying out $1,400 to get a sewer in your yard is not a good idea.

This amount will raise more money than your taxes will be the end of the 15-year bond indebtedness, you will still have your $1,000 certificate. My suggestion to the people who are saying that there is a better way to finance the program than what we have presented is: get your program together and prove it to us. It is

Driver charged after girl is struck by car

Jesse M. Landrus, 67, of 2011 Fourth St., Madison, was charged with leaving the scene of an accident and reckless driving after his auto allegedly struck a 2-year-old girl, Wetz, 2011 Fourth St., Madison, on her bicycle in front of the child's home at 3:30 p.m. Tuesday and drove away without offering help.

Landrus' auto allegedly was involved in a crash at 20th Street and Edwardsville Road where he was apprehended.

Witnesses to the first accident reported the girl was riding her bicycle in the street when struck by the front end of the car. She and her bicycle went under the front end of the car and were dragged about 35 to 40 feet before the car stopped. A witness rescued the girl from under the front of the auto and the car then drove from the scene, witnesses alleged.

A description of the auto was given to area police authorities and the girl was taken to St. Elizabeth's Hospital where she was admitted.

She suffered abrasions to her right hip and both knees and a bruise to her left shoulder. A series of X-rays was taken. Details of the four-car accident minutes later are given on page 8.

very easy to make suggestions and idle talk, but putting them together and making them work is something else.

I challenge anyone to come up with a completed and workable program that will be better than what we have given.

To the sewer citizens, your homebased exemption and circuit breaker tax reduction will make your sewer tax very small.

Also, to all, the sewer bond tax is tax deductible on your income tax. Revenue bond costs are not.

Here are some figures given us by our financial advisers which will give the average cost you will pay on the bond indebtedness over a fifteen year period if your home is assessed at $2,000-$21.20 per year, $4,000-$42.40 per year, $6,000-$63.60 per year, $8,000-$84.80 per year, $10,000-$106.00 per year.

The far greater percentage of the homes in our areas are assessed below $10,000, probably nearer an average of $5,000 or $6,000. I know of some as low as $2,300.

Get out your tax bills, and check your assessed value. Then you can figure what the estimated cost will be to you.

Don't take a chance to lose our sewers by someone's false information. Let's not lose our $14,360,000 state grant.

I will be glad to discuss any part of the program with anyone or any group at any time.

History is meeting topic

Mrs. Betty Bruce a St. Louis television newscaster was the guest speaker at a meeting Tuesday night of the United Methodist Women of Nidringhaus United Methodist Church.

She spoke on the topic "Freedom of the Press" and concluded with an open discussion with the 70 members present.

As the guests arrived Jackie Brown, Marie Klein and Janie Brown greeted each one and gave them a "horobook" as a memento of the event.

Mrs. Elizabeth Briggs gave a history of the "horobook" which came into use in the 14th century and was still used by early settlers of America. The books were inscribed 1861 and were made from deer paws from the old church. They contained a copy of the 23rd Psalm. Mrs. Briggs noted:

In keeping with the program theme a "Learn from Yesterday Live for Today Hope for Tomorrow" Gloria Skulish read "Birth of A Nation" by John Adams dated 1776.

During the affair was Miss Carol Kinney, winner of the "Lat Freedom Ring" essay contest who read her winning entry.

Members placed articles related to today's life in a "2000 year book" to be opened at the church at that date.

Refreshments were served at tables decorated in heritage colors by members of Love Circle led by Mrs. Josephine Ramsey and Loyalty Circle directed by Mrs. Woodie Lynn.

Mrs. Mary Hemphill was in charge of the business meeting and announced Nov. 19 will be the annual bazaar date with Mrs. Golda Boyle named as chairman. Booth assignments were read by Mrs. Hemphill.

Kills dog

Richard Griffin, 2007 Garfield
Ave., told police at 6:30 p.m.
Thursday, he was forced to kill a large collie dog which attacked Griffin's 11-year-old poodle while the smaller animal was chained to a tree in the rear yard.

Griffin said the collie gripped the poodle "so hard the collar ring tore loose and remained connected to the chain."

His wife said the dog then turned toward here and she yelled for her husband to get a ball bat. Griffin said he struck the dog twice, killing the animal.

The collie belonged to the Lynn Meyer family at 2002
Richmond Ave., and was in the company of the Meyer's son, Brian R, 8, when the incident occurred. Police said there were puncture wounds on the poodle's back and possibly other bites.

Letters; and any claim not so filed is barred as to the estate inventoried within that period.
Also, copies of claims must be mailed or delivered to the administrator.

Mrs. Duane Hall, a sister of the groom, presided at the piano for the Rev. John Nading who sang the Lord's Prayer. Stephen Hall played "A Time For Us" on the clarinet prior to the arrival of the bride.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her brother David Smith. She chose a white dress with a long train and a long chapel train accented the flared skirt. She wore a bow headpiece to secure her veil of bridal illusion and held a bouquet of white and peach roses intermingled with baby's breath and festooned with white ribbon streamers.

Maid of honor Miss Della Antoff wore a princess style long dress created in peach print crepe enhanced with a lace trim at the neckline and cuffs.

Her bouquet was an arrangement of white carnations, peach roses and baby's breath.

Roger Moore attended the groom as best man. John Johnson and Bob Moore served as ushers.

Candlelighters were Brian Smith and Joyce Young, a brother and sister of the bride couple.

Guests were received by the newly married Mr. and Mrs. Young at a reception held in the church fellowship hall.

Romans 8:37 "Nay in all these things we are more than conquerors through Him who loved us."

We can do all things through Christ who loved us and gave Himself for us. When we are weak then we are strong. Of course we must realize always that our power comes from Him alone. All that we accomplish in this life that is beneficial to the kingdom of God is always through Him. Paul is asking in this writing if we realize that through all suffering and pain for our testimony we are not at all conquerors but MORE than conquerors through Him.

LEARNING CAN BE FASCINATING. Kindergarten children of the Harris School in Madison were taken on a field trip which included the Madison police station. While the children look and listen, Sgt. William Fanning (right) explains to them various "tools," such as the tear gas gun, a policeman sometimes has to use to protect them and their homes from "people who do bad things." The tour of the police department included a talk on safety and advice to not talk to strangers. (Press-Record Photo)

DON'T BE AFRAID OF THE MASK. Madison Fireman Michael Macek explains to Harris school kindergarten children not to be afraid should their house catch fire and a man climbs through a window while wearing a "scary-looking mask." In addition to showing the children the smoke mask, Macek explained the various parts of a fire truck. He took the children on a tour inside the fire station and discussed dangerous things, such as matches and electric wires. After the children finished the tour, they were treated to candy and bubble gum. In the right background is Mrs. Margaret Blackshear, their teacher. (Press-Record Photo)

Democratic convention delegates are honored

About 400 persons attended a reception and cocktail party Monday night at Charlie's Restaurant, honoring delegates and alternates to the National Democratic Convention from the 23rd Congressional District, including Madison and St. Clair counties.

The convention is scheduled to open July 12 in New York City.

Delegates and alternates introduced were Robert L. Bergman, Cahokia; Alan J. Dixon and Mary Jean Ring, Belleville; Charles Hester, Granite City; Fannie G. Jones and Robert Mays, East St. Louis; L. Thomas Lakin, Wood River; John J. Rekowski and John Ubaldi, Collinsville.

State Treasurer Alan Dixon served as master of ceremonies and introduced Nelson Hagnauer, Madison County Board chairman and chairman of the Madison County Democratic Central Committee.

Also presented by Dixon were Thomas Delaney, new chairman of the St. Clair County Board, and Michael J. Bakalis, candidate for state comptroller and former superintendent of the Illinois Department of Public Instruction.

Hagnauer spoke briefly telling the gathering, "We are proud and confident in the delegation we are sending to New York." He also introduced Walter "Buck" Simmons, clerk of the Fifth District Appellate Court and former Madison County Democratic Central Committee chairman.

Referring to Dixon, Delaney stated, "Under your fine leadership Alan, our delegation is well qualified to endorse the right candidate."

Dr. Bakalis was introduced by the state treasurer as "Undoubtedly the future governor or United States senator from Illinois. He drew a half-million votes in the election."

The candidate for state comptroller expressed appreciation to Dixon for the "counsel and direction he has given me through the years."

Dixon announced the convention delegates "will be sitting down very shortly with area business people, labor leaders and others, who we know are Democrats," to hear their views regarding voting at the national convention.

A straw vote was conducted at the party in which guests were invited to cast preferential ballots for eight potential candidates for president. Results of the poll were announced by Dixon.

Candidates listed on the printed ticket were: Jimmy Carter, Frank Church, Hubert Humphrey, Henry Jackson, Ellen McCormick, Adlai Stevenson III, Morris Udall, George Wallace and others.

Humphrey led the field with 69 votes, followed by Carter with 58 votes and Stevenson with 22.

Others for whom preference votes were cast, included: Church, 10; Udall, 9;

California Governor Edmund G. Brown Jr., 8; Senator Edward Kennedy, 7; Wallace, 4; Jackson, 3; McCormick, 2; Alan Dixon, 2; Michael J. Howlett, 1; unspecified, 5; and blank ballots, 26.

Change three performances at Festival

Officials of the Mississippi River Festival, held on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, have announced three performance changes for the 1976 season.

The James Taylor (July 13) and Dan Fogelberg (July 6) concerts have been canceled, and the July 14 performance by Harry Chapin has been moved to June 30 — to accommodate Chapin's participation as a delegate from New York at the Democratic national convention in New York City.

The James Taylor performance has been replaced with Todd Rundgren, according to Festival Director Lyle Ward. The Dan Fogelberg performance has been replaced by Jesse Colin Young with Emmylou Harris.

"Both Taylor and Fogelberg have canceled their entire tours for that time span," explained Ward. "We were fortunate in being able to obtain performers like Todd Rundgren and Jesse Colin Young on such short notice."

Ticket holders for any of the involved performances are being contacted about seating for the replacement performances.

Schleicher seen as big plus for Northwest Missouri team

Three all-stars are among a group of five out-of-state student-athletes who have indicated they will attend Northwest Missouri State University (Maryville, Mo.) and participate in a Bearcat football program that has produced a 20-16 record the past five years.

Leading Coach Jim Redd's out-of-state delegation is Larry Schleicher, 6-4, 170-pound split end-defensive back from North High School in Granite City.

Schleicher, who has 4.3 speed for 40 yards, became only the second player ever to be named to both the offensive and defensive all-star. Louis metropolitan first teams.

The Granite Cityan, who caught 44 passes for 794 yards and six touchdowns last season, was also a first team selection on the Illinois all-state team. Schleicher graduated from high school with a 3.76 grade point average out of a possible 4.0.

Four Iowans complete the Bearcat out-of-state recruit list, and the recruits include Clear Lake's Marc Olson, a 6-4, 180-pound defensive back-quarterback. Olson, a first team all-star, will enroll in the fall as a sophomore after spending a year at Northern Iowa Area Community College.

The third all-star is Avoca's Wayne Allen, a 6-3, 190-pound tight end-defensive end. A second team all-star pick, he will play in the annual Iowa Shrine all-star game at Drake University in August.

Council Bluffs St. Albert's Mark Doll, a 6-4, 190-pound end, will enroll at NWMSU this fall. He was co-captain of his high school team last year.

The fifth out-of-state recruit is Irwin's Leonard Gross, a 6-0, 190 two-time all-conference performer who received all-southwest Iowa honors.

Awards will be given to the top 20 runners of each race. The top four runners of each race will receive a trophy, and the fifth through 20th place finishers will receive plaques. Certificates will be awarded to all participants who cross the finish line, no matter what place they are in.

In addition, the top three placement winners of individual age categories will receive medals. The categories are: 18 and under, 19-29, 30-39, 40-49, 50 and over, and women.

All participants will receive an SIUE Bicentennial marathon tee shirt.

An entry fee of $3 will be required to help pay for the awards.

Volunteers are needed to help register contestants and to time and judge the event.

Entry blanks can be obtained from Andrew Johnson at the SIUE bubble gym or John Plamer, Office of the President, John S. Rendleman Building.

Those interested in learning the game of tennis will have the opportunity to do so at SIUE summer day camps.

There will be camps this summer for other sports, but the tennis camp is the only one already graduated from high school. Because of NCAA rulings, those persons are ineligible for the other camps.

The first of the two tennis camps will be July 19-23 for boys and girls entering the fourth through 12th grade. The adult tennis camp for persons 18 and older will be the week of July 26-30.

The first camp will run from 9 a.m. until 12 noon. The adult camp will be in the evenings, from 6 to 8.

Kent DeMars, head coach of the SIUE Cougar tennis team, which qualified for the NCAA post-season tournament this year, will be the instructor for both camps. Campers will be instructed in basic and advanced techniques through development of skill analysis. Cost of the camps will be $45, and checks are made payable to Southern Illinois University and sent to Conferences and Institutes, Box 36, Southern Illinois University, Edwardsville, Ill. 62026.

GYMNASTICS DAY CAMP AT SIUE JULY 5 TO 9

Larry Moehn, director of the SIUE elementary and physical education program and coach of the mid-Illinois Jets gymnastic team, will be the instructor at a summer day camp in gymnastics sponsored by SIUE.

The July 5-9 camp will involve a six-hour program each day, 9 a.m. to noon and 1 until 4 p.m. Cost of the camp is $60. Checks payable to Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville may be sent to: Conferences and Institutes, Box 36, Southern Illinois University, Edwardsville, Ill. 62026.

RECORD BASS: Ray Edwards, owner of Sterling TV in Madison, caught the largest certified largemouth bass in Missouri during 1975, according to the current issue of Fish and Stream. Edwards caught the record fish Oct. 6 while attending a Boy Scout leader training course at the SBF Scout Reservation south of Farmington, Mo. The bass measured 25½ inches long, with a 19½-inch girth, and weighed nine pounds, 12 ounces. It was caught on a spinner and rind from a boat 100 feet offshore in bright sunlight.

All being offered sewers would find it to their benefit to support the badly-needed, bargain-price county plan

Much time and attention has been devoted by Quad-Cityans to the proposed installation of sanitary sewers in unincorporated areas and in the Village of Pontoon Beach.

As the time for decision nears, an overwhelming accumulation of facts indicates the value of such sewers — for individual and collective health and economic reasons.

The Madison County Board and its Special Sewer Committee have leaned over backward to hear and study various alternative proposals. At some point soon, it is vital that all available information and opinion be sorted out, evaluated and acted upon.

It seems clear from the actions and comments of persons and property owners in most of the affected territory that a majority wants sewers and sees the necessity of going ahead now, through a general obligation bond issue and utilization of $15 million in state-federal grants, nearly three-fourths of the overall cost.

It would be unfortunate if anti-sewer pettifoggers succeed in any of the three areas where proposed, reliable sewers have been designed and made available at a bargain price. But if part of the obviously essential program is blocked, officials should proceed with sewers in the remaining territory.

It is a fact that even among opponents, most of the "aggainers" say they want sewers — and are unwilling only because of the cost or the payment method.

Since the cost would be much worse at a later time, and since no other payment plan is practical or within local ability to pay, it would be constructive if all now get fully behind the project and urged that it be carried out immediately.

Day of reckoning for public employe pension promises

Press-Record Washington Bureau — The pension reform act of 1974 is considered one of the signal accomplishments of the 93rd Congress. Abuses which had left many American workers high and dry after years of contributing to private pension funds are being corrected under a new set of federal rules.

It turns out, however, that Congress was looking at only one side of the coin. There are 30 million Americans covered by private pension plans. But there are another 20 million enrolled in public employe retirement systems set up under federal, state and local governments.

And 100 million Americans rely at least in part on Social Security for retirement income. What about the soundness of their pension plans?

The underpinnings of the Social Security system are cracking ominously.

Congress is balking at voting another increase in the payroll tax to meet current obligations, and asks questions whether the next generation of Americans can keep the promise being made to those now contributing to the system.

The decision by many public employe organizations to drop Social Security — an option most Americans do not have — promises to increase the burden for those who continue to participate.

It also points to another problem just beginning to surface. Dollar for dollar, public employes often are promised a better deal from contributing to their own retirement systems than from Social Security.

The reason is that government retirement systems are generally quite generous — perhaps too generous for taxpayers to support in the future.

A study by the Twentieth Century Fund turned up the fact that some public employes can collect more in retirement than they earned while they were working.

New York City, with $6 billion of unfunded liabilities in its pension system, is only one example of a government going overboard with pension promises.

Massachusetts is $4.7 billion short in money set aside to cover pensions for state employees. Los Angeles County faces a $2.9 billion pension gap.

The federal civil service system estimates it will need $97.2 billion from future taxpayers to cover pension obligations for retired federal employes.

Arthur F. Burns, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, is warning of a "terrible day of reckoning" for federal, state and local governments when the bill comes due for pension commitments.

Complying with the 1974 pension reform act is creating many headaches — and additional costs — for thousands of private firms maintaining pension plans for their employes. There is some satisfaction, however, that these plans be managed well to deliver on their promises.

If the government can insist on prudence and responsibility in the management of private pension systems, why can't it exact the same standards from itself — in public employe retirement systems and Social Security?

The job of pension reform in the United States may be just beginning.

Repair 'wasteful' almost as costly as new dam at Alton

(American Waterways Operators)

Twenty-eight members of the U.S. House of Representatives have signed a letter to President Gerald Ford "respectfully requesting your assistance in quickly presenting to Congress the secretary of the Army's proposal for a replacement dam and locks near Alton."

The letter, sent Friday, was initiated by Rep. Paul Findley (R-Ill.) and drew support from congressmen from Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, Illinois, Kentucky, Tennessee, Arkansas, Mississippi, Louisiana and Montana.

Referring to the big tie-up at Locks and Dam 26 in April, the letter said, "The recent traffic jam at Lock 26 proves the urgency of the situation and the need for the nation's consumers of delaying."

Continued, "Over 55 million tons of commodities pass through this key point each year, including 23 million tons of grain bound for export. If the locks and dam were to deteriorate, in a few short years it will give way completely and the shipment of much of our nation's agricultural produce to foreign consumers will come to a halt."

"Nearly one-sixth of our annual exports are grains originating in the upper Mississippi valley. The effect on our balance of payments of closing Locks and Dam 26 would be enormous. It would seriously weaken our nation's economy."

Equally important would be the loss of vital fuels and chemicals basic to the upper Midwest's economy. The effect on our nation's economy would be disastrous."

The congressmen wrote that repairing the present facility "is not a viable alternative," adding that "repair instead of replacement would result in enormous waste of tax dollars."

Consequently, we urge that all necessary steps be taken to avoid any further delay in the construction of a new lock and dam on the Mississippi River at Alton."

The Illinois congressman continued, "Simply repairing the present lock and dam would necessitate closing the river for several months at a time."

What's more, necessary repairs would cost nearly as much as building a new lock and dam, and the new facility would have the capacity of the present facility.

What a waste of tax dollars that would be!

The environmental issue, Railback reported he was opposed to deepening the river channel. He said such a move could harm the environment and create a "boondoggle" which Congress would never approve.

He said, "A longer and deeper lock does not mean a deeper river channel. It means a more economical movement of our commodities to market."

"And that only can mean a boost for the nation's economy and better prices for the consumer and sale for the farmer's pocketbook."

Railback reported he has joined Congressman Paul Findley (R-Ill.) in writing to Secretary of Transportation James L. Coleman, asking him to give quick approval to a new lock and dam at Alton.

The Subcommittee on Water Resources of the U.S. Senate Public Works Committee will hold hearings June 17, 22 and 24 on the proposal to replace Locks and Dam 26 on the Mississippi River at Alton.

The subcommittee, chaired by Senator Mike Gravel (D-Alaska), will hear testimony June 17 from the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers and other interested federal agencies.

The Corps has recommended that the existing complex at Alton, said to be deteriorating badly and too small to handle the waterborne traffic load there, be replaced with a new dam and one 1,200-foot lock.

On June 22, the subcommittee will receive testimony from members of the Senate and affected states.

In announcing the hearings, to be held in Room 4200 of the Dirksen Office Building, Gravel requested that those wishing to testify notify the subcommittee by telegram as soon as possible.

Requests to testify should be addressed to Senator Mike Gravel, Chairman, Subcommittee on Water Resources, Committee on Public Works, U.S. Senate, Washington, D.C. 20510, and should be received no later than June 15.

Ronald F. Schrader, executive director of the National Committee on Locks and Dam 26, which has called amount of grain, fertilizer, coal, petroleum and other items much less the increases anticipated in the future.

"This facility is the key to the economic well-being of Midwestern farmers, consumers, electric utilities, manufacturers and businessmen. The cost of moving grain and other heavy commodities by water is frequently less than half the cost by alternative transport methods. There are also increasing savings in fuel use," the senator continued.

In addition to the savings, the inland waterways system provides a supplemental form of transportation to rail, truck and air.

"Without access to barges, farmers would be unable to get their grain to market without massive pile-ups and delays. As you all know, this only leads to lower prices to these farmers and higher costs to consumers."

We would have, as my Senate colleague, Hubert Humphrey, once said, an immovable feast."

The Missouri Democrat reported, "The riches of the producers of our land, from the raw materials, cars and industrial goods that we import."

"We have been repairing these locks for years. The problem only would be resolved by replacing the crumbling present structure with a new dam and lock."

In closing, Symington said, "With planning and construction time estimated at 10 to 11 years, Congress should authorize a new facility this year so the replacement can be started."

Rep. Tom Railsback (R-Ill.) in his newsletter of May 21, wrote, "The economic health of the Congressional District and of the entire Midwest is depending upon construction of a new lock and dam on the Mississippi River at Alton."

The Illinois congressman continued, "Simply repairing the present lock and dam would necessitate closing the river for several months at a time."

What's more, necessary repairs would cost nearly as much as building a new lock and dam, and the new facility would have the capacity of the present facility.

Chouteau reader—Install sewers now and qualify for state-federal funding

To the Editor:

Fellow taxpayers, do you know the power of the Environmental Protection Agency? It is a government agency which has the authority to command, dictate, order you to install a sewer system at totally your own expense.

They have the power, and their records tell of just this order being made to certain towns in the United States. This is what is going to happen in Chouteau Township in the near future.

As a taxpayer, I would like to have sewers free, but this is not going to happen.

The next solution would be the state, to which I pay taxes, paying a portion of my sewers. The state of Illinois has agreed to do this.

Since I receive so little of my tax money back that directly benefits me and my family, I would appreciate seeing some tax money in person. The federal and state can raise your taxes by passing a little known law you never heard about, and you never see the result of the tax nor benefit from the law.

At least, this tax for sewers will definitely help you directly. It won't be silly enough to think that your taxes won't rise if the sewers don't go through. They will just tax you for something you don't want or need.

If you let a handful of people, with distorted facts, influence your decision I feel sorry for the people of Chouteau Township. These few people are trying to cheat the majority of people out of sewers because they don't need the sewer, even if you do. Or, they are trying to put a feather in their own political hat.

Remember, taxpayer, you might want to sell your house. Who would purchase a home so backward not to have a sewer system? It would be like buying a house now with an outhouse.

Let's wake up and live in the 21st Century. Let's get the best of the present sanitary sewers and qualify for the state-federal aid.

Million jobs could be lost if U. S. government breaks up oil companies

To the Editor:

Loss of a million jobs—and a sharp decline in the gross national product—could be triggered by dismemberment of U.S. oil companies.

A study of the nation's largest oil companies has concluded that enactment of proposed dismemberment legislation would result in an $85 billion decline in GNP within two years, elimination of a million jobs, and an inflationary price of gasoline and other refined products.

Although oil companies are among the nation's largest corporations, they are competitive by any economic measure.

If Congress legislates this on the assumption that vertical integration is somehow anticompetitive, the same logic awaits other major U.S. industries.

At least 20 of the largest firms, including steel, broadcasting, automobile, metal and glass container—are more concentrated than oil companies have higher rates of return on stockholder equity and are also vertically integrated.

It stands to reason that Congress, to justify dismemberment of the oil industry, will have to go after these other industries.

Dismemberment of large oil companies would produce an immediate negative economic impact on the entire national economy by disrupting the capital market and forcing interest rates upward.

A massive divestiture legislation, virtually all of the oil companies affected would have to pay off an estimated $20 billion in bonded debt. And the divested units would have to refinance in a market-jolting series of transactions several times larger than the largest bond issue in U.S. economic history.

Business lenders would be less willing to provide funds for smaller, less secure fragments of integrated oil companies, and upward pressure would be added to soaring interest rates in the already tight money market.

Other businesses trying to expand would be among the hardest hit.

Those that could not afford the high interest charges would have to cut back—and that would mean the loss of jobs.

Current political rhetoric about the high profits of "big oil" is without foundation in fact.

Latest Fortune Magazine figures show that the profits of the nation's oil companies are at about the median level of all U.S. manufacturing.

It is ironic that of the nation's 18 most profitable petroleum companies over the last five years, only four would be in the current dismemberment proposal.

So, if Congress thinks that there is an oil company monopoly and monopolists get more profit than the firms which are competing, they are doing the wrong thing. The petroleum industry.

Divestiture of integrated oil companies would reduce the efficiency of the divested parts, creating higher market prices for gasoline, heating fuel and chemicals.

To the extent that dismemberment imposes inefficiencies, some divested companies may have to leave the industry or be acquired by others, so in all likelihood there will be fewer competitors in all stages of production.

Divestiture legislation is an example of the government seemingly trying to improve things—and actually achieving the opposite by making the system less efficient and less competitive.

Urge owners to improve homes here

To the Editor:

The Granite City Republican Women's Club has decided to initiate a home improvement project aimed at encouraging homeowners to improve their property.

How could this be done?

First: Create a pride in the domestic process which encourages and permits people to own their own homes.

Second: Help raise the morale of the citizens by encouraging, rather than penalizing them for improving their property. This means we will then carry over to their renters.

Third: How can this be done? Each year, beginning with 1976, property owners would be told to save their receipts for improvements done during 1976.

Fourth: Upon receiving their property taxes, they would present their improvement expense receipts to the assessor.

Fifth: Use the time now allowed for determining tax assessments in the following way:

Check the receipts for the improvements and raise the tax in the following way:

Allow a specific percentage— (10 per cent of the total). Total amount of improvements—400; 10 per cent—40.

Property taxes 1976 total—$600; 10 per cent allowed for improvements—$60.

Property tax balance due—$540.

Improvements done during 1976.

Property tax balance due—$540.

This will in a short time increase the value of most property. The money returned to the taxpayer can be used to purchase other items, which in turn will stimulate our economy.

We do not need "slum areas." Why do we then create them?— If I improve my property the assessor will raise my taxes!

Areas in California and in Seattle, Wash., have used this idea.

Granite City will be 80 years old this year of 1976. What are we preserving for the next 20 years in Granite City, Madison County, Illinois?

Local students praised for courtesy

To the Editor:

On May 8, we were returning to Havana, Ill., from Barnes Hospital at St. Louis.

My husband had had hip surgery and could walk only with a walker and not very well at that.

We stopped at Heritage Inn in Springfield, Ill., to eat. There were five blonds of athletes there lined up waiting to eat.

Having eaten there before, I went in to see if they were serving from more than one table. Boys were lined up in long lines.

One young man said, "Clear the way, you guys. A lady wants through." The move of the entire line was automatic.

I went in and talked to a gentleman who I thought was the manager of the restaurant and later learned it was one of the coaches.

I stated our problem and we would be taken care of.

He turned to the boys and said, "There is a man out there who needs some help."

He didn't have, as they had already gone to the car and had him to the door by that time already.

They helped us to a table and put me to fill our plates ahead of them. It was then I learned it was one of the Locks and Dam 26.

Smith wrote, "It is patently impossible to prepare a well reasoned response within that time period."

"Furthermore, requesting written comments only, with no public hearings, makes a mockery of the legislative process in light of widespread interest in the entire Locks and Dam 26 situation."

In a letter May 28 to Senator James B. Pearson (R-Kan.), ranking minority member of the Senate Commerce Committee, AWO President James R. Smith voiced concern over the short deadline set by the committee for review and comments on S. 3425, a bill introduced by Senator Gaylord Nelson (D-Wis.), calling for more studies of the economic consequences of reconstruction of Granite City Community Unit School District Nine coaches who had helped us.

I want you to know that those coaches and that group of young men were certainly perfect gentlemen.

We shall always remember them with love and grateful hearts. Thank you and God bless you every one.

We want these young men, their parents, the coaches and the citizens of the community to know that the Granite City schools have good reason to be proud of their young athletes and coaches.

Dr. Geroff, a dentist, maintains offices at 2640 State St. His wife is the former Ruth Boshoff.

Hosting the surprise event were their children, Mr. and Mrs. Adrian (Jeanette) Rains, Dr. Chris V. Geroff and Gary A. Geroff, all of Granite City, and Mr. and Mrs. Ron (Helen) Beard of Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

A buffet dinner was served and the 30 guests danced to the music of the Golden Greeks, a St. Louis group. Several native Greek dances were performed by guests.

Dr. and Mrs. Geroff were presented with a grouping of patio furniture by their relatives and friends.

Among those attending were two of the couple's five grandchildren, Sarah and Lance Beard of Cedar Rapids.

Response is 'encouraging' on forming Lutheran high school

A Lutheran high school study committee is in the final phases of its feasibility study. The committee comprised of representatives of Lutheran churches in this area has been studying the possibility of a new high school for more than a year.

The committee has formed study groups, including such areas as goals, financing, public relations and a facilities committee which is exploring interim possibilities intended to lead to a permanent facility within a few years.

The committee has been concentrating its efforts recently on surveying Lutheran students and parents to determine their feelings on the proposed senior high school. Ron Henschen of Trinity Lutheran Church in Edwardsville presented a film and surveyed students in Lutheran grade schools in Belleville, Edwardsville, Collinsville, Bethalto, Collinsville, Edwardsville, Hamel, Litchfield, Fairview, Staunton, Troy and Worden.

Students surveys were conducted in Alton, East St. Louis, Granite City and Wood River at Lutheran churches which do not have a day school. Parents were also surveyed to get their opinions.

Results of both the parent and student surveys are being tabulated, and preliminary findings reviewed at a meeting in Wood River are described as encouraging.

The next meeting will be held Thursday, June 17, at Trinity Lutheran Church, Edwardsville. Jack Emerick of Valley Lutheran High School in the Chicago area, will be present, he has been assisting with the study.

The meeting will concentrate on finalizing the study and preparing a final report and recommendation for the churches involved in the study. Information is being coordinated by Don Cochran, 345-1741.

3 hurt on Myrtle

Three people were injured when the cars of the Rev. Alfred Cope, 41, of 2448 State St., and Donna Graham, 2700 Angela Drive, collided at Wilson and Myrtle avenues at 3:25 p.m. Monday.

Rev. Cope was charged with a stop sign violation. He suffered a cut to the left side of his hip, a bump to the rear of his head and injuries to his chest and right shoulder. X-rays were taken at St. Elizabeth Hospital and he was admitted.

Park gymnastic, tumbling series

Younger children and teenagers wishing to take part in a summer gymnastic and tumbling program may register at 9 a.m. Monday, June 14, at the Nameoki Recreation Center, Amos and Franklin avenues.

Classes will start June 14 and continue on Mondays through Thursdays for a seven-week period.

Sessions will be held from 9 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. and from 1:30 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. at the recreation center.

The instruction program is open to children in grades 1 through 12 who reside in the Granite City Park District.

'Music Under Stars' opens season Tuesday

The first concert in the "Music Under the Stars" summer series will be presented at 8 p.m. Tuesday at Wilson Park Ice Rink.

There is no admission fee and the Granite City Park District will provide ample seating for the hour-long program.

Both the adult and children's choruses will perform Tuesday night, under the direction of Mrs. Mary Ann Bright, director.

Theme of the initial concert is "Popular Songs of Now and Then" and features many old standards, as well as the sounds of today, Mrs. Bright reported.

The director said members still are needed in both choral groups. Children through eighth grade level are being encouraged to rehearse on Monday and Thursday from 12:30 p.m. to 1:30 p.m. in the South High School vocal room.

A special invitation is extended by Mrs. Bright to all adults and high school age youth in the community to join the adult chorus.

The older group rehearses also on Monday and Thursday from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. in the South vocal room.

Mrs. Bright stressed it is not too late to join the choruses and new members will be welcomed into the music program throughout the summer months.

Liquor licenses for public officials outside their area

Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott has just issued a legal opinion stating that after July 1, public officials may hold liquor licenses for premises not located within their jurisdictions.

His opinion cited Public Act 79-1183, which was approved Dec. 19, 1975, and becomes effective July 1. The new law amends liquor control statutes which prohibit law-enforcing officials and county and local officials from holding liquor licenses.

The amendment provides that the officials who were formerly banned from holding liquor licenses can now do so for premises outside their jurisdictions if the issuance of such license is approved by the State Liquor Control Commission.

Scott's letter to John G. Satter, Livingston County State's Attorney, noted that a county board member, for example, could hold a license for retail premises located in a city, village or incorporated town within the same county, since the county board's control over liquor licenses does not apply there.

However, Scott added, the county board member could have no other interest in the manufacture, sale or distribution of alcoholic liquor.

$456 BURGLARY

Items valued at about $456 were stolen from the apartment of Charles Schaffer, 2200 rear Delmar Ave., after the apartment door was kicked open. It was discovered at 5:30 p.m. Monday. Taken were a $150 turquoise necklace, a $100 calculator, a $150 watch, $50 in new quarters and 50-cent pieces, two silver dollars and two $2 bills. The television was carried to the bottom of the steps but was not taken.
